Gettysburg Grade Pupils Present Spring Musicales In HS Auditorium Friday

Pupils in the elementary grades of the Gettysburg Joint School System will present their spring musical program Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Gettysburg High School Auditorium. An estimated 1,200 boys and girls from the Lincoln, Meade, and Keefeauver Schools will participate under the direction of Mrs. Barbara B. Strickbouser, vocal music supervisor. There will not be any admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

The program will begin with the first graders singing "We Welcome Everyone." Following that they will present "Chicken Licken," a song story by Frank Licken. Chicken Licken will be acted by Catherine Ewing; Henny Penny, by Helen Longenecker; Cocky Locky, by Carol Zentley; Ducky Lucky, by Henry Geitzel; Goosey Loosy, by Ann Reinberger; Turkey Lurkey, by Donald Swope; Foxey Loxey, by Jack Hartman, and The King, by David McLaughlin.

"The Basket House" A song story entitled "The Basket House" will open the Second graders' part of the program with Lenora Schwartz portraying the mouse, Cynthia Wieder, the rabbit, and Lloyd Snyder, the bear. They will sing and dramatize "The Little Bird's Ball" with Sharon Miller, Carolyn Zorby, Richard Warren, Carmon Bush, Glenn Hankey, Charles Davies, Sharon Heiser, Hunter Hartman, Sharon Phiel, Carolyn Lott, and Sharon Cline acting as the dancing birds.

The Third graders will present a musical playette, "Hats for Sale!" by Harold Wheeler. Main characters are the peddler, acted by Billy Deal; the mayor, by Roger Heiler and the old lady, by Charlene Woodward. Nancy Rosenberger will be the narrator.

An old school song "Boys May Whistle" will open the Fourth graders' part of the program. Paula Olinger and Sylvia Nett, flutes, will play "A Woodwind Duet" by Mozart, followed by the Fourth graders singing the same selection. Following that they will sing "Lavender Blue," an English folk song. The Stephen Foster melody "O Susanna" will be sung with Barbara Zeigler, Eddie Thomas, Anne Stahl, Dennis Unger, Ralph Hyson, Toni Barriga, Gary Herring, Ann Bucher, Kenneth Fissel, Linda Fisher, Peter Nelson, Linda Painter, James Madsen, Wanda Kuykendall, John Musselman, and Pennsylvania State Police have been alerted to pay particular attention to irresponsible and dangerous automobile driving practices of teenagers "and to take proper action." The instructions came from Governor or Leader.

The Governor said this additional enforcement action was recommended by Colonel Earl J. Henry, State Police commissioner, following the recent series of multiple fatality weekend accidents involving teen-agers drivers.

"We have had four accidents in recent weeks that claimed the lives of twelve of our young citizens," the Governor said. "This is needless tragedy that no family should have to suffer."

Colonel Henry announced that State Police patrols have been instructed to regulate and control.

54 Pct. Of Pupils Have Perfect Teeth

Fifty-four per cent of all elementary students in Gettysburg Schools qualified for the "Dental Honor Roll" during the "Perfect Tooth" program conducted in the schools under sponsorship of the local Rotary Club and school nurses. It was announced today.

Of the 909 out of 1,672 elementary children who secured "perfect tooth slips" from their dentists, 421 were from Keefeauver School, 164 from Lincoln School, 160 from Meade School, 153 from St. Francis Xavier Catholic School and six from the Day Care Training Center.

Meade School, with 68 per cent of its students listed on the Dental Honor Roll, had the largest percentage. Keefeauver School with 63 per cent was second, Lincoln School had 59 per cent, St. Francis 34 per cent and the Day Care Center, 20 per cent.

PROPERTY SOLD

The Veterans' Administration has sold the former Earl Lehigh property in Hunterstown to Durwin C. and Dorothy E. Wilman, Hunters-town. The sale was made through Lee M. Hartman, realtor.

SCOUTERS TO MEET

There will be a meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in the fire engine house for commissioners of the Black Walnut District of the Boy Scouts. Status sheets for the month will be presented, the revised Explorer program will be considered and unit report will be asked.

Prof. Deitz To Speak At Bendersville Rites

The Rev. Reginald Deitz, professor of church history at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, will deliver the address at the annual memorial services to be conducted at Bendersville on Saturday, May 25. The exercises will follow a parade at 3 p.m.

The parade will form at the community hall and will move over Railroad St. and N. Main St. and then to the cemetery where the services will be held with Leighton C. Taylor serving as master of ceremonies. The Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, Lutheran pastor at Bendersville, will give the invocation and the Rev. William Jay will give the benediction.

The parade will include the South Mountain Riding Club, the Biglerville High School bands, Sunday School children and teachers, Boy and Girl Scout troops, Bendersville Fire Company, the firing squad of the Ira Lady post of the American Legion and antique cars and floats. After the exercises a supper will be served in the community hall by the Bethlehem Lutheran Church until 7 p.m.

REV. KNECHEL WILL DELIVER BACCALAUREATE

The Rev. Robert Knechel, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Biglerville Road, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the service for the class of 1957 of the Upper Adams Joint School System, Biglerville, to be held Sunday evening, May 26, in the Memorial auditorium at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, Arendtsville, at 8 o'clock. The service is sponsored by the Bethel Mennonite Church, Biglerville Road, Rev. Willis L. Breckbill, pastor.

The program follows: Prelude, "Air a la Bourree," by Handel; "Song Without Words" by Mendelssohn and "Nocturne" by Grieg; processional hymn, "The Church's One Foundation"; invocation, Rev. Willis L. Breckbill; high school choir, "Listen To The Lambs" by Dett, a soprano solo by Barbara Freed; scripture by Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor of the Arendtsville Evangelical and Reformed Parish; prayer by Rev. Frantz; high school choir, "O Magnify the Lord with Me" arranged by George Lynn; offertory, "Improvisation" by Schubert; hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"; benediction by Rev. Willis L. Breckbill; recessional hymn, "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us"; postlude, "March Romaine" by Gounod. The pianist will be Miss Ruthanna Musselman.

Capt. H. W. Parlett, Family Visit Here

Capt. and Mrs. Henry W. Parlett and son, James, are visiting Capt. Parlett's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Herr's Ridge. The visit marks the first time home for the Parlett family in three years. The young Air Force officer won the ROTC "outstanding cadet award" here six years ago upon his graduation from Gettysburg College, and immediately entered the Air Force.

He was stationed for 18 months at Albuquerque, N. M., a year at El Paso and for the last three years has been stationed as an administrative officer near Newberry, England.

Mrs. Parlett was with him in England for the full three years and their son, "Jim," was born there. The current leave marks the first time "Jim" has been in the U. S.

Friday Capt. and Mrs. Parlett will conclude their visit here and then will visit New York before reporting to Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, where Capt. Parlett has been assigned to advance studies in chemistry. He was a chemistry major at Gettysburg College.

LEADER NAMES FR. KANE TO PA. ADVISORY BOARD

The Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, rector of St. Francis Xavier Church and diocesan director for the spiritual care of migrant workers, is a member of a 10-man advisory board which Governor Leader has named to work for the protection of the rights of migratory laborers.

Father Kane and the other members of the 10-man board were in

FATHER KANE

Harrisburg today at the call of the governor for a conference.

"Pennsylvania needs migrant workers if our crops are to be harvested, and they are entitled to decent treatment from those who employ them," the governor told the board's initial conference. "It will be the job of this board," he added, "to see that Pennsylvania protects the rights of the migrant farm workers."

40,000 Involved

The panel was established to review and revise regulations dealing with migrant labor camps. Recommendations will be passed for final action to the Labor and Industry Department's Industrial Board.

"In your efforts to draft new regulations covering these labor camps," Leader continued, "you must bear in mind that the destinies of some 40,000 harvest workers are involved. This figure has changed appreciably in recent years, and it is the figure we anticipate for 1957. Our best guess is that some 31,000 Pennsylvanians are involved; an estimated 6,800 workers from other states and 3,500 Puerto Ricans."

Labor and Industry Secretary William L. Batt Jr. addressing the board, said, "We are providing every help to harvest the crops as

Meligakes Tells Club About Book

N. A. Meligakes told the members of the Gettysburg Exchange club the background for his book, "The Spirit of Gettysburg," and explained how he came to write the book several years ago. Mr. Meligakes was the speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the service club at Banker's restaurant.

President Carl Prosser presided at the meeting when plans were made for a memorial service in two weeks at which deceased members of the club will be honored.

FIREMEN TO CONTINUE

Gettysburg firemen, halted by rain Tuesday during their first night's canvass for donations, tonight, starting at 6:30 o'clock, will continue their solicitation along the Fairfield and Chambersburg Rds. and in the north end end of the community.

Eisenhower Tells Country There Isn't Any Cut-Rate Price For U.S. Security

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the American people last night any great spending reduction in the face of Soviet atomic might would amount to "a gamble with the safety of our country."

"There is no cut-rate price for security," he said in a nationwide television-radio address. He said Russia is capable of "the supreme folly" of trying to destroy the free world if her rulers ever feel safe to do so, and military power is needed to dissuade them.

The President put his popularity to a test and his military prestige on the line in an effort to halt the congressional budget-cutting attack on his $71,800,000,000 spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Plan $3 Billion Cut
But the verbal attack continued in the wake of fresh Senate committee cuts.

The general attitude of the budget critics, some within Eisenhower's own party, was voiced by Senate Republican Leader

Building Permits Issued By Burgess

Building permits have been issued by Burgess William G. Weaver for the following construction:
Victor Re, 30 by 64, two-story double frame house on Barlow St., $18,000.

Citizens Oil Co. for concrete block 16 by 29, one-story addition, with no estimate of cost or address appearing on the permit.

James Strickhouser, 150 N. Stratton St., new concrete steps and porch repairs, $500.

TO RECONSIDER SCHOOL SITE IN CONEWAGO TWP.

Conewago Twp. taxpayers were promised by their school board Tuesday evening at the climax of a public meeting in the Midway schoolhouse that the directors will "reconsider" selection of the site for a proposed new 11-room elementary school building.

The "unofficial" promise was made after Attorney Edward B. Butler, counsel for the school board, had told the meeting he could not call a special meeting on the spot and vote to reconsider as the taxpayers' group had requested through their attorney, Donald G. Oyler.

Oyler had told the board they would be "blatantly derelict, in their duty if they refused to reconsider the site selection in view of 'facts and figures' presented by a group of citizens headed by Walter Davis, a past president of the Conewago Twp., who said he has not missed a regular school board meeting in five years.

Keefe Presides

Feelings ran high at times during the meeting that did not adjourn until after 10:30 p.m. and County Superintendent of Schools C. P. Keefe had some difficulty at time maintaining order and in carrying out his announced intention of conducting the meeting under Roberts' rules of order.

There were suggestions that one site or another of the four under consideration Tuesday night was "being pushed so they can sell lots." Charges of "damnable lies," threats of slander suits and frequently repeated charges that the school board in the last five years had "failed to dig out the facts" about possible school sites were heard through the evening.

Davis insisted his "citizens' group" favored no particular site but wanted to set all the figures on land, utility and transportation costs before the board.

A board decision, reported Tuesday evening as a 3-to-2 vote, has designated the Menges tract as the site for the new school. Cost figures on that and three other tracts were submitted Tuesday evening by Davis and his backers. The action will be reconsidered at the next regular meeting June 4 and Mr. Butler said the board in the meantime will seek "special help" from Department of Public (Continued On Page 14)

New Child Welfare Quarters 'Inadequate'

The Adams County commissioners this morning conferred with officials of the advisory board of the Adams County Child Welfare Services on general activities of the welfare program in the county. Mrs. A. W. Butterfield and other members of the welfare service advisory committee held that the new quarters into which the welfare service has been moved—the rooms at the court house formerly occupied by the Adams County Agricultural Extension office—are "inadequate."

Recreation Bd. Offers Most Extensive Summer Program

The Gettysburg Recreation Board Tuesday evening adopted a summer program that will cost approximately $4,000 with the hope that "for the first time in its history" it can offer "a complete and well rounded recreation program."

As outlined Tuesday night the program will involve use of five areas: Recreation Field, Keefeauver School area on Gettysburg College property; a play site between Fourth and Fifth Sts. and a site on the Codori development between Barlow and Stevens Sts.

To carry out the program five full time and five part-time employees were hired and possibly still another full time employee may be secured.

To Open June 17

The program will begin June 17 and continue for ten weeks at all sites except Recreation Field where an 11-week program will be offered.

Persons hired to work 30 hours a week during the ten-week summer program are Jack Bream, Miss Ann Fortenbaugh, Howard Shoemaker, Mrs. Kathleen Trostle and John Toggas. Named as part time instructors are Mrs. John Held, who will head up the arts and dramatics program; Gary Bechtel, industrial arts teacher at Fairfield High School, who will conduct the crafts program; Fred Croese, who will work two hours a week in connection with a square dancing program to be offered, and Mrs. Joanne Brownley and Mrs. Mary K. Gray, who between them will provide the full-time service that otherwise would be required of one woman.

The employees who have not had previous recreation experience, Miss Fortenbaugh, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Trostle, Mrs. Held and Mr. Toggas, will be paid $1.50 an hour. The others will receive $2 per hour in accordance with the state regulations. One half the salaries is paid by the state, one half by the Recreation Board.

Recreation Director Chester Hilger was authorized to order equipment and supplies needed for the summer program, with the board estimating that upwards of $500 in supplies will be needed to carry out the complete program.

Salaries, according to the estimates by the board Tuesday night, will cost about $3,600.

Board members observed that "the next two years will be the tough ones" financially if the program continues year after year. State reimbursement is made two years after actual expenditures. Two years ago the board was "between directors" and thus spent little for salaries. As a result this year it will receive only a small amount in reimbursement. Next year when it receives the reimbursement on last year's program it will be getting a larger sum from the state and two (Continued On Page 2)

At the business meeting the following officers were nominated: president, Mr. Richard B. Naugle; vice president, Mrs. Charles S. Taylor; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Diehl; promotion secretary, Mrs. Howard Long; treasurer, Mrs. Richard Deane.

Mrs. Milton Remmel gave the invocation. Mrs. Paul Glenn gave a toast to the daughters and Virginia and Irene Glenn gave a toast to the mothers. Group singing was led by Mrs. Meredith and other music was provided by Mrs. Robert Deardorff and daughters, Demaree, Virginia Lee and Melanie Ann. Mrs. Harold L. Ecker served as toastmistress. Members of the Isabelle Thoburne Circle prepared the dinner and the men of the church served.

The committee in charge of the banquet consisted of Mrs. Robert Berkheimer, chairman, Mrs. William Pensyl and Mrs. Harold Ecker.

SCHOOL JANITOR INSTITUTE TO BE HELD HERE

School janitors soon will be going to a school of their own. With modern plastic materials in use, cleaning has become more than a matter of using a scrub brush and a broom, the county superintendent's office observed today in announcing plans for the first "Custodian Institute" ever held in the county's history.

The institute for the men who take care of the schools in the county will be held June 13 at Gettysburg High School, with registration to begin at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and the school ending at 4 in the afternoon.

So far 19 custodians from six schools have signed to attend.

Superintendent of Schools C. P. Keefe said floor maintenance "has become a major problem in the case of school buildings and will be the subject for study and discussion during the institute. Exhibits will be displayed showing supplies and equipment which are used in modern floor care. Specialists in the areas of wood, tile and cement surfaces will discuss the subject with the group and conduct question and answer sessions. Instruction in preparation of floors for sealing and finishing will be given, followed by demonstrations of the actual processes of preparation, sealing, finishing, waxing, etc."

Three Couples Are Licensed To Marry

Marriage licenses have been issued at the courthouse to the following: James Clayton Myers, 338 Lincolnway West, New Oxford, and Naomi Elizabeth Balcom, Gettysburg R. 5. William F. Krepps, son of Mark E. Krapps, 108 North St., McSharrytown, and Josephine McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McKinney, 16 Maple Ave., Hanover.

John William Keiser, son of John P. Keiser, Gettysburg R. 5, and Mary Lou Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Solomon Barr, Cashtown.

Somebody Might Have Got Stung On Assessments

Even the bees are getting into the assessment picture.

Representatives of Gettysburg's borough council and school board met Tuesday evening with the county commissioners and Chief Assessor D. Walker Woods at the court house.

They made a spot check of assessments to report back to the council and school board June 3 on whether the council and school board should "sit in" with county officials when they make a general reassessment of the borough properties or simply let the chief assessor and commissioners handle the reassessment alone.

As the men were talking they were joined by a swarm of bees that apparently mistook the humming of the transformer in the fluorescent light in the chief assessor's office for the humming of a queen bee—at least they gathered by the hundreds on the light.

With the arrival of the bees, there was a sudden departure of officials. A fast consultation led to a decision to snap off the light.

When the light was turned on again, the bees had departed.

80 PERSONS AT WSCS BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT

Various phases in the life of a mother were highlighted at the Mother and Daughter banquet held by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Gettysburg Methodist Church Tuesday evening at the church. About 80 members and guests were present.

The following members demonstrated the roles played in a mother's life: seamstress, Mrs. Kenneth Reinhart and daughter Debbie; housekeeper, Mrs. William Ayre and daughter Molly; playmate, Mrs. Newell Carey and daughter Jane; chauffeur, Mrs. Charles Taylor and daughter Pamela; hostess, Mrs. Victor K. Meredith Jr. and daughters Jacqueline and Diane; cook, Mrs. Earl Brandon and granddaughter, Barbara Ecker.

Flowers were presented to the following: youngest mother, Mrs. Arthur Kennel; the oldest mother, Mrs. John Ayre; mother with the most daughters present, Mrs. Robert Deardorff and the youngest daughter present, Miss Cindy Feather.

Officers Are Nominated

At the business meeting the following officers were nominated: president, Mr. Richard B. Naugle; vice president, Mrs. Charles S. Taylor; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Diehl; promotion secretary, Mrs. Howard Long; treasurer, Mrs. Richard Deane.

Mrs. Milton Remmel gave the invocation. Mrs. Paul Glenn gave a toast to the daughters and Virginia and Irene Glenn gave a toast to the mothers. Group singing was led by Mrs. Meredith and other music was provided by Mrs. Robert Deardorff and daughters, Demaree, Virginia Lee and Melanie Ann. Mrs. Harold L. Ecker served as toastmistress. Members of the Isabelle Thoburne Circle prepared the dinner and the men of the church served.

The committee in charge of the banquet consisted of Mrs. Robert Berkheimer, chairman, Mrs. William Pensyl and Mrs. Harold Ecker.

College Student Involved In Crash

Two autos were damaged to the extent of approximately $200 as a result of an accident north of Thurmont on Route 81 Sunday.

Involved in the accident were William Mason Bailey, Fairview, Mass., who is a student at Gettysburg College and Garland Sylvester Stoops, Waynesboro, Pa. No injuries were reported.

According to State Trooper H. J. Brown, both vehicles were traveling north on Route 81. Stoops went into a skid and Bailey, who was following closely, collided with the left rear of the Stoops auto. Approximately $150 damage was done to Stoops' car and $50 to Bailey's auto. Bailey was charged with operating under the influence and reckless driving and Stoops was charged with reckless driving by Trooper Brown.

Meckley To Speak At Heidlersburg

Former Hanover Postmaster Claude O. Meckley will be the speaker Sunday afternoon, May 26, at 2 o'clock at annual Memorial Day services to be held at the Heidlersburg Cemetery.

In case of inclement weather the services will be held in the Heidlersburg Lutheran Church. Music will be furnished by members of the church choir in the area.

HIGH SCHOOL'S MUSICAL TO BE GIVEN ON FRIDAY

The annual spring musical of the York Springs High School will be presented Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the York Springs Fire Hall. The choral director will be Miss Kathryn O'Boyle and Dale Roth will direct the band.

Mrs. Margaret Franquist presented her pupils in a recital on Friday night at the Lower Bermdan Lutheran church to about 50 parents and friends. The following pupils entertained: Warren Weaver, Wayne Rinhart, Donna and John Myers, Phil and Ricky Brown, Geneva Hoak, Nancy Kline, Ginger Stary, Mary Jane Chronister, Jeanette Smith, Connie and Jackie Clausen and Darlene Wagner.

Mrs. Harry Menger of York, formerly of Bragtown, is recuperating satisfactorily at her home. She had been a patient in a York hospital where she had undergone surgery. Her address is 734 S. Queen St., York.

Wallace W. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Anderson and Mrs. Ada Boreland, of Baltimore, spent Friday with their sister, Mrs. Bessie Warner. A cousin, Lewis Gobrecht, Hanover, also visited Mrs. Warner. Mr. Gobrecht is a teacher at Wilson College, Chambersburg. Next week Wallace Coleman and C. Wilson Wood will go to Springfield, New Hampshire, where they will spend the summer at Mr. Wood's summer home, Home Wood Crest.

On Sunday, Mrs. Lewis Elliott and Mrs. Margaret Franquist visited the Engler sisters in Taneytown, Md. Miss Beulah Engler is spending 10 days with Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Franquist.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gardner and granddaughter, Judy Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coulson visited Rev. Berry Plummer who is a patient in the hospital at Hagerstown.

On Sunday Mrs. Ruth Naugle, Judy Naugle, York Springs, and Mrs. Paul Smith, Mechanicsburg, visited Paul Smith who has been a patient at the Veterans Hospital at Lebanon for the past three weeks.

Sunday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Behney were Miss Jean Bretzman, Bendersville; Mr. and Mrs. James Morris, Lewis Criswell and son, Harold, of Carlisle.

years from now it will receive from the state one half the money it will spend on professional salaries this year.

Plan Varied Program

The program to be offered will vary from story telling for tiny tots at the neighborhood playgrounds, to sports, crafts, dramatics, dancing, special activities, pet shows, doll shows, "just about every type program that can be devised to provide recreation and instruction," Hilger said.

Ott Wuenschel, coordinator of health, physical and recreational education for the state Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, who attended the meeting, said that of 1,200 recreation programs in the state only 180 so far are offering full "well rounded" programs. If the plans of Gettysburg's board work out, the borough will be the 181st in the state to offer such a program.

As an example of "what we might expect in participation" President Kenneth Dengler said: "There were more than 200 boys only for Little League this year. Only 22 of those could be accepted by that league. If that interest continues we will have the biggest minor league in all history, for we plan to provide minor baseball league activity for all those who could not be accepted by the Little League because their rosters were filled."

Hilger Praised

Director Hilger received a vote of commendation for the adult education classes held during the winter months at the high school with 119 enrolled. A "profit" of $109.20 realized from the school was turned over to the treasurer of the Recreation Board. Fourteen students at the school were from outside the Gettysburg Joint school board area, and each paid a special $5 fee. Sixty-nine of the Gettysburg area students who completed courses were refunded their original $3 fees. Thirty-six who dropped out before completion lost their refunds and that amount was included in the $109 turned over to the Rec. board. The $70 paid by out-of-district students had previously been turned over to the board.

The concrete block refreshment stand being constructed by the board at Recreation Field was reported "almost completed" and the Gettysburg Community Softball League was granted permission to operate the stand during the summer. Approval was given for placing of water and sewer lines by the Gettysburg Fire Department to its new area on the Recreation Field. The local Army Reserve unit was granted permission to drill on the field May 26. Approval was given for use of a diamond on Recreation Field for a playoff between Biglerville and Littlestown teams.

The Mason-Dixon Cotillion will be held at 9 o'clock this evening in the Hotel Gettysburg.

The eleventh annual banquet of the 50-50 Sunday School Class of St. James Lutheran Church was held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Mt. Joy Lutheran Parish hall, Taneytown. Sterling Musselman served as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Walter Smith. Blue and gold, the class colors, were used as the color scheme for decorations.

Mrs. Betty Johnson, a guest, gave a demonstration and lecture on the use of seeing-eye dogs. She also played selections from "Oklahoma" on her accordion and accompanied in group singing. John Naugle, another guest, showed slides and spoke on his recent trip to Switzerland where he traveled with the International Farm Youth Exchange.

The following officers were installed and spoke briefly: President, Richard Cline; secretary, Mrs. Helen Martin; and treasurer, Carl McCans. Gladys and Robert Weikert graduated to the Lydia Sunday School Class, it was announced.

The Annie Danner Club voted $75 to the YWCA on the club's yearly pledge at a business meeting of the club Tuesday night at the Y. Members were reminded to sign at the "Y" no later than Saturday noon to attend the Mother and Daughter banquet to be held at Methodist Church Tuesday a 6:30 o'clock.

Twenty-four women participated in the "Festive Putts and Handicap Golf" tournament at the Gettysburg Country Club Tuesday. Winners on the fewest putts were Mrs. Robert Davies, first, and those who tied for second place: Mrs. Richard A. Brown, Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Mrs. T. R. Schleicher, and Mrs. G. W. Lefever. On low net score, Mrs. Schleicher was first and Mrs. Lefever was second.

While there she attended the Mother-Daughter Banquet of Beta Sigma Phi sorority of which Mrs. Chalker is the director of the Westminster Ritual of Jewels Chapter.

Mrs. Henry T. Bream, executive director of the Lutheran Inner Mission, West Pennsylvania Conference, will speak at the morning worship service at the Upper Bermdan Lutheran Church, Gardners, at 9 o'clock and at the 11 o'clock service at Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Goodyear, Sunday. Mrs. Bream will describe the purpose of the Inner Mission and the kind of service provided by a conference Inner Mission. The Rev. H. Earl Schlotzhauer, Idaville, is the pastor of the two Lutheran churches.

DRY WEATHER
GOOD TIME FOR
CONTOUR WORK

Dry weather has kept Soil Conservation Service personnel of the Adams County Soil Conservation District busy.

Because the drought has permitted work in fields normally wet, farmers have been seeking assistance of the conservationists in laying out contour strips, contour orchards, surveying and construction of farm ponds, drainage ditches, under ground drain tile and bedding.

With normally wet areas dry, George Oyler and son, Clarence, near McKnightstown, are completing a drainage program in a pasture field. The drainage ditch is to have its sides sloped so they can be seeded and later easily mowed. The soil removed from the ditch will be spread over water pockets to help improve surface drainage.

Quinn Topper, east of Zora, is installing V-type ditches in a wet area of his apple orchard. The small v-channels will be installed under the limbs of the mature trees on the lower side of the tree row in order to have a dryer orchard and a better roadway between tree rows.

Clarence Kennedy, near Gardners, and Donald Leer, near York Springs, have completed installation of field tile in their crop fields. In placing the tile the two farmers sought to keep to a minimum the maintenance problem caused by roots of trees and plants growing into the tile. Soil Conservation specialists observed that drain tile should go deeper. The failure of old stone drains, pole lines and field tile is attributed largely to its being placed too near the surface. Deep plowing, erosion, mice and muskrats or a combination of these causes have led to failure of many drainage systems lying too near the surface. Clay tile should never be installed with less than two feet of cover over the top of the line to insure adequate protection from farm machinery.

INTEREST-FREE
LOANS BY BECK
CALLED THEFTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — An insurance official testified today Dave Beck did not list loans of $300,000-plus from the Teamsters Union when making a financial statement in 1951.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, commented: "It would therefore appear that the money was stolen rather than borrowed."

Kennedy referred to statements Beck, the Teamsters Union president, has made to the effect that he borrowed several hundred thousand dollars from the union interest-free.

Misused $320,000
The Senate committee contends its evidence indicates Beck misused at least $320,000 of union funds. It has advanced the suggestion that Beck decided to call this money loans after income tax agents began investigating his tax returns.

A. M. Burke, a vice president of the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California testified that he returned the 1951 financial statement to Beck in 1953 or in 1954.

He said this was before Beck had paid off a $273,000 personal loan from the insurance company on a note signed by Beck and Mrs. Beck.

Burke said the statement was returned at Beck's request.

Refused Information
Burke related that the company had required the financial statement when it made the loan in 1951.

He identified a memorandum he had written for his files in which he said Beck, in the financial statement, had listed assets of $1,072,715 and liabilities of $234,000, representing a loan he had obtained from the Security First National Bank of Seattle.

The memorandum said that in the statement Beck had declined to give a statement of "salary and benefits."

Burke testified that Beck telephoned him one afternoon just five minutes before the Occidental office was to close for the day, and asked for return of the statement.

"He said it was very imperative that he had it that night," Burke said.

No Copy Made
He said he mailed it to Beck that evening, without making a copy of the document for the files.

"The financial statement had served its purpose," Burke said, when asked why he didn't make a copy.

"Had the loan been paid off," "No, sir," Burke replied. But he said Beck was current in his payments on the loan.

Kennedy said "the financial statement takes on additional significance" because the Internal Revenue Service was investigating Beck's income tax returns in 1953, although it did not get around to talking to Beck about them until the following year.

Tufts College Has

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A rarity in baseball is the left-handed catcher. Tufts College has one in sophomore Joe Crowley, their first string receiver.

Coach Bill Kearns had a problem in that he needed a catcher. So he shifted Crowley from the outfield and the pitcher's mound, the spots he occupied as a freshman in 1956.

Crowley, a native of South Weymouth, Mass., also is a promising football player. He averaged eight yards a carry as a left halfback last fall.

COOL GARB, FAST TIMES
DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Eddie Adams of Dunbar High School had a prudent reason for hustling through the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds and the 220 in 22.6. He explained to a sportswriter that his track suit wasn't very warm in the chilling wind and he was anxious to get back to the warm locker room.

COACH IN PUERTO RICO
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — John Egli, Penn State basketball coach, Fordham coach Johnny Bach and Columbia mentor Lou Rossini will coach basketball in the Puerto Rican League next summer.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — One of Gus Zernia's top baseball thrills came when he hit seven home runs in four days for the 1951 Philadelphia Athletics. Gus still hits them for the Kansas City Athletics.

SCHOOL BOARD NEEDS AT LEAST FIVE TEACHERS

The need for at least five additional teachers for the fall term, 1957-58, of the Littlestown Joint School System was noted at the May session of the Joint Board Tuesday evening in the office of the Supervising Principal Paul E. King at the school.

The resignations of two teachers were accepted with regret, and one new teacher was elected. Charles E. Tressler, head of the Industrial Arts Department, resigned, following acceptance of a position in New Jersey, and Mrs. Kathryn Schultz, sixth grade teacher, has also resigned.

Charlotte L. Rogers, 453 W. Middle St., Gettysburg, a graduate of Gettysburg College and of Goucher College, Baltimore, was elected as an elementary grade teacher. Needed before the next school term begins will be teachers for industrial arts, girls' physical education, music and elementary grade teachers.

Make Business Survey

Principal King reported that Frank Keifer, head of the Commercial Department, is making a survey, through the department, of the business establishments and stores in and about the community and of all commercial class graduates for the past five years. The purpose of the survey is to determine the necessary requirements for employment in stenographic, clerical and bookkeeping positions, so that courses may be properly outlined and adjusted in the local high school. The study was suggested by the State Department of Education. Mr. Taylor, representative of the Social Security Administration, visited the school and spoke to the teachers on integrating Retirement and Social Security.

Mr. King noted that eight teachers had absences during the month, and substitutions were arranged to care for all the classes. In his monthly report, the principal also announced the schedule of events incidental to graduation as follows: Today, annual awards assembly; Friday, Open House and Science Fair, for the public; May 24, Sixth Grade Promotion Exercises; May 24 to 27, tests, with standardization tests to be given in grades seven and eight; May 26, baccalaureate service, sermon by the Rev. Porter W. Selwell; May 29, Commencement, General Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College, speaker; May 29 and 30, clerical holidays; May 31, school closes.

The report of Treasurer Clayton Harget listed $28,333.49 as receipts for the month, with expenditures as follows: General control, $55; instruction, $15,812.41; auxiliary agencies, $1,407.98; coordinate activities, $410.33; operation of plants, $2,936.76; maintenance of plants, $1,384.11 and fixed charges, $5,243.88, a total of $27,150.47 expended. During 19 days of operation, there were 14,394 meals served in the cafeteria.

Award Contract

The report of School Nurse, Mrs. Brenda B. Walker revealed a total of 22 home calls and 289 first aid treatments at school, three of which required further treatment at the physician's office and two required x-rays at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. A total of 104 doses of diphtheria tetanus toxoid were administered by Dr. Leonard L. Potter to first grade pupils whose parents gave their permission, the first dose on April 12 and the second on May 10. Four special examinations were given by Dr. Potter. The general health of the pupils was reported good.

Mrs. Walker attended the Adams County School Nurses meeting on April 10 at New Oxford to hear the nurse recruitment advisor from Philadelphia. The school nurses also assisted with the Salk Vaccine program given to adults from 20 to 40 years of age on April 25 at the Warner Hospital.

The Board decided that there will be no further adult driver education classes when the present one is completed, until after school opens in September.

The contract for finishing two basement rooms in the Rolling Acres Elementary School was awarded to Dale Witherow, Gettysburg, R. D., for a bid of $1,271.48.

To Paint Buildings

A contract was awarded to I. H. Crouse and Sons to paint the outside of the local high school building; also to repair the wall in the home ec room in the high school. A contract was also let to Aero Oil Company to clean the furnace in the high school and to make the necessary repairs.

The transportation committee, Bernard Hess, chairman, awarded a bid for fourteen 900x20 ten ply heavy duty tires, to the Firestone Store, Hanover, at a price of $80.35.

of Pack 84 next Wednesday, May 22, at 7:30 p.m., in the POS of A Hall, E. King St. The Boy Scouts of Troop 84 and the Explorers of Post 84 have been invited to attend as guests of the Pack. Fire prevention is the theme for study during the month of May by the pack, troop and post.

Parents of boys who will be received into the pack at ceremonies on May 26, and who wish them to be eligible for the Red Cross swimming instructions this summer, must register them with assistant Cubmaster Beaven F. Hanlon by Saturday of this week. The swimming instructions will be offered for two weeks, beginning on July 15.

The Cub Scouts awards and induction ceremonies will take place on Sunday, May 26, at 2:30 p.m., and parents and friends are invited to attend. If the weather is suitable, the affair will be held outdoors at the American Legion Home on E. King St.

The local Cubs will wear their uniforms and march in the community Memorial Day parade on Thursday, May 30. The boys will meet for formation at 6 p.m. at the Littlestown High School.

Class At Meeting

Mrs. Donald C. Arbogast, E. Myrtle St., was hostess to the Young Women's Class of Redeemer's Reformed Church for the bimonthly meeting on Monday evening. The devotions included the Scripture read by Mrs. C. Moss Morehead Jr. followed with the Lord's Prayer in unison. There was a group discussion, in the form of a question and answer period, on "How To Explain Death To A Child." The discussion was led by the pastor, the Rev. Porter W. Selwell, who is teacher of the class.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Marvin F. Breighner, who heard a report from the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Theon J. Basehoar. The class discussed adopting a project, but no decisions were made pending further investigation. Plans were made to hold the next meeting in the form of a family picnic on Monday, July 8, at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John D. Basehoar, E. King St. The following committee was appointed in charge of picnic arrangements: Mrs. Richard D. Thomas, chairman, Mrs. John Basehoar, Mrs. John A. Sentz, Mrs. Ross Morehead Jr. and Mrs. Robert B. Millheim. At the conclusion of the business, refreshments were served by the hostess.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Local Youth Heads Seniors:
Raymond F. Sheely, of Gettysburg, was elected to the presidency of the senior class of Gettysburg college for the year 1932-33 at an election held in Brusa Chapel. Mr. Sheely is a member of Beta Beta Beta and also a member of the Owl and Nightingale Dramatic club. He is a senior officer in the college unit of the R.O.T.C. and a member of Phi Kappa Psi social fraternity.

Miss Kadel Is Bride At Noon:
Miss Vera Kadel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kadel, West Middle street, and Oliver H. R. Krapf, of Lehigh, were married Saturday noon at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Elvin C. Krapf, pastor of the Lehigh Methodist Episcopal church, performed the double ring ceremony of that church.

The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Krapf, while Byron R. Kadel was best man. Before the procession John E. Kadel sang "O Promise Me." He was accompanied by his brother, William Kadel.

Couple Married Here On Monday:
Miss Rita A. Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Long, Hanover, and Eugene H. Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Roth, York street, were married at the rectory of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church Monday afternoon by the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock. The attendants were Hubert Long and Miss Eileen Will.

Kermit Harbaugh And Miss Codori Honor Students:
Kermit Harbaugh, McKnightstown, and Miss Josephine Codori, of Gettysburg, are the honor students of the 1932 graduating class at Gettysburg high school. Prof. Guile W. Lefever, principal of the school, announced on Wednesday.

Thursday morning the seniors went to Washington for two days. Chaperons for the trip were Miss Ruth Spangler, Miss Ruth McIlhenny, J. Guy Wolf and Robert Fidler.

Germany Can't Pay: Berlin, May 15 (AP) - Germany no longer can pay reparations. Chancellor Heinrich Brüning has served notice to the world.

Decomposed Body Is Found Five Miles From Their Home: Trenton, May 13 (AP) - The broken little body of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., found five miles from the home where he was kidnapped, will be buried without his parents having seen it.

Local Women Attend Synod Convention: Several hundred women, including many from Gettysburg and Adams county, were in attendance at the opening session of the jubilee convention of the Women's Missionary society of the West Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church in St. Matthew's Lutheran church Wednesday. Mrs. William H. Menges is president of the group.

New Dental Department At Hospital: Through the courtesy and generosity of Dr. E. H. Markley, the Annie M. Warner hospital will soon have a dental department and a dental staff. Doctor Markley has given to the hospital his entire dental office equipment as a nucleus for the dental department.

Directors who were re-elected included the Rev. Mark E. Stock, J. H. Holtzworth, Charles H. Smith, John D. Keith and Dr. E. H. Markley, all of Gettysburg; E. C. Livingston, New Oxford; F. V. Topper, McSherrystown, and Harry Deardorff, Cashtown.

Clarence A. Wills, Greensboro, was elected a new member of the hospital board.

Dorsey Dougherty was re-elected president of the board.

Capt. Dollar Dies: San Raphael, Calif., May 16 (AP) - Captain Robert Dollar, 88-year-old veteran of the shipping and lumber industries, died at his home here today after an illness of two weeks.

Today's Talk

THE SUCCESS OF OTHERS

We should learn from the success of others. Never should we envy them, but congratulate them for the example they have set for us. Much of the success that any of us gains is the product of others. We read biographies to learn the rules of success that others have won. To envy, and be jealous of the success and happiness of others is to sow bitterness in our hearts. Be glad that others can point us all to greater heights and nobler aims.

Very few of us take advantage of the fact that there are people around us all the time, but we almost ignore them, forgetting that much of our future years may be influenced by these same people. We can't have too many acquaintances or too many genuine friends. They are our examples, the inspirers of our faith and incentive.

Praise those who are successful. Help them to enjoy their fame. (It's such a vanishing thing!) But get all the lessons you can from that silent, instructional lesson. Celebrate all good news that comes to someone else by joining in. Tell them how fortunate they are—and how happy you are to share their good fortune. John Drinkwater, in his Lincoln play, said that in appreciating greatness we ourselves become great!

I like this spontaneity of worship for our heroes and famous men and women, because we are apt to see in them both our failures and successes, so that in praising others we praise ourselves! From our youth we recall memories of those whom we wish we could have imitated, but in looking backward we are glad we didn't! Being ourselves, and a bit of others, is quite sufficient.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Building Boy Spirit!"

NO SALESMAN

Though I envy those who have the gift of selling
And the way they get the buyers to the wicket,
Though I've promised that I'd try, it's truth I'm telling:
I have never sold a single raffle ticket.

Should I ever ask the druggist or the grocer:
"It's a raffle on an auto. Take a chance, sir?"
I should suffer from embarrassment if "No, sir!"
Should be the loud and most emphatic answer.

When it comes to raffle tickets, as I view it,
'Tis a job that calls for courage and persistence,
So I leave it to the fellows who can do it,
I'm no good at overcoming sales resistance.

They tell me there is really nothing to it.
Sales resistance? Any glib of tongue can lick it!
But I leave it to the fellows who can do it,
I could never learn to sell a raffle ticket.

ADAMS PUPILS FIRST TO SEE SAFETY FILM

Adams County High School students this week became the first in the country to view a new movie on traffic safety. The movie is a kinescope of a live television broadcast entitled "No license to Kill," presented on the Alcoa Aluminum Hour.

The drama was based on information concerning accidents provided by the Aetna Casualty Co. of Hartford, Conn.

Harry D. Ridinger, local agent for Aetna Casualty, saw the television broadcast, wrote Aetna whether any films had been made of the drama and, if so, were they available.

The company answered that he was the first to write suggesting the idea, and that they had been able to obtain two kinescopes made of the production while it was being presented, and that he could be the first to have them for presentation here, if he wanted them. He contacted driving training teachers and principals of county schools.

The result: Monday Gettysburg High School students saw the picture; Tuesday, Biglerville had its turn. This morning it was shown at Fairfield. Friday morning at 8:30 it will be shown at New Oxford and Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock it will be shown at Littlestown.

KLUSZEWski LEAVES CLINIC

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati Reds outfielder, was discharged from Lahey Clinic today with instructions for special exercises which may avoid necessity for an operation.

He was told by the doctors that he can get in shape and "be of definite value" to the baseball club. He entered the clinic Monday.

Dr. James L. Poppen who examined Kluszewski, said: "There will be no operation at this time, although no one can say for certain that surgery will not be necessary at a later date."

Dr. Poppen said that Kluszewski has a protruded intervertebral disc and that he has given "the biggest man in baseball" special exercises, including "a good bit of swimming, using the crawl stroke for strengthening the gluteal muscles."

The eugeneologist said that "with exercise and conservative treatment it is hoped that he will be able to carry on without surgery, although no one can say for certain that surgery will not be necessary at a later date."

PENN TRACK COACH QUILTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Ken Doherty has resigned as head track coach at the University of Pennsylvania, but will remain to run the annual Penn Relays, Jerry Ford, athletic director, announced today.

Richard "Boo" Morcom, freshman mentor, will succeed Doherty as head track coach, effective July 1. Morcom became freshman track coach in 1949. He won the pole vault, high jump and broad jump in the 1943 IC4A championships.

Ford said Doherty requested the change to free his time for more intensive planning of the relays. He will continue in track as an associate of Morcom's.

Doherty came to Penn in 1948 from Michigan where his teams had won 11 of a possible 18 Big Ten track championships in nine years. At Penn he developed such stars as Dick Hart, Charles Emery, Willie Lee and John Haines.

The Gettysburg - Temple tennis match, scheduled to be played in Philadelphia Tuesday, was rained out. Today the Bullets meet Locomotives here.

The Littlestown Little League game Tuesday evening between the Giants and Eagles was rained out in the top of the fourth inning and has been re-scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m. The Giants led 8-0 when play was interrupted.

Bullet Trackmen Defeat Lebanon Valley; Bisons Here Thursday Afternoon

Jack Ridinger's Gettysburg College track team scored its second victory of the season by defeating Lebanon Valley 79-47 at Annyville Tuesday afternoon as the Bisons took nine first places and tied for another.

Ron Paul and Dave Kessler each turned in a pair of victories for Gettysburg, Paul winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes and Kessler the mile and two-mile runs.

Two excellent marks were turned in by Bullet performers. Bill Ward captured the high jump with a leap of six feet, one inch and Dave Yohn hurled the shot-put 41 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

John Diehl of Gettysburg finished second in the two mile run but was disqualified for receiving aid from another performer.

The Bisons will conclude their season Thursday afternoon when Bucknell comes here for a dual meet.

BIGLER JOINS SOFTBALL; TO ERECT FENCE

Biglerville was admitted as the seventh team to the Gettysburg Softball League at a meeting Tuesday evening at the Moose Home.

Perforated posts, arranged in a line around the field, and other plans completed for the opening double-header next Monday evening. The schedule will be announced Friday.

Team managers and all others are urged to report at the field this evening at 6:30 in aid of erecting the fence. In the event of inclement weather the work will be done Thursday evening and, if again halted by weather that evening, on Friday.

President Johnny Grindler presided at the meeting with all teams present.

Richwine reported there is every indication the field will pass the 70 mark the greatest field of Big Cars ever assembled for a single race. At least 35 cars and drivers are expected from each organization sanctioning this unique racing classic. Twenty-four of the fastest cars and drivers—12 from the East and 12 from the West—will face the starter's flag for the main event, the largest number of big cars ever to start in a race on the oval.

Trojans Nip Warriors 1-0 To Win South Penn Title; Bubblers Play Here Today

Chambersburg High clinched the championship of the South Penn Baseball League by edging the Gettysburg High Warriors in a tight, fast game on the Trojans' field Tuesday afternoon 1-0.

It was the fifth league title for Chambersburg in the 11-year history of the league. Last year Hanover won the honors.

The loss was the fifth straight for the Warriors who now have an overall season record of 2-8. They have two remaining games, meeting Bolling Springs here this afternoon and Waynesboro here next Monday.

Tom Kitzmiller and Kaiser hooked up in a pretty pitchers' duel, the former yielding only four hits and the latter three.

Chambersburg's run came in the second inning. Meminger opened with a single and stole second base. Mosser fanned. Ron Hankey tossed out Stewart, Meminger moving to third from where he scored on Thomas' double. Wilmer fanned to end the inning. Thereafter, Kitzmiller was airtight, yielding only singles to Meminger in the fourth and Haulman in the sixth.

The Warriors' best scoring chance came in the top of the second inning when Ron Harmon walked and Bernard Lochbaum doubled to the start the frame. Kaiser then bore down and whiffed the next three batters.

In addition to Lochbaum's double, Chambersburg hits came off the bat of Harmon Spence in the opening frame and Johnny King in the sixth.

Kaiser ran his strikeout string to 12 in the final frame when he fanned three straight Warriors.

as said he doubts that "the President's speech was helpful to his budget."

Eisenhower hammered hard and at length at what he called "the plain truth" that the price of peace is high.

$45 Billion For Security
Asserting that more than 45 billion dollars in the budget are earmarked for security programs, he said of the nearly 72-billion dollar total: "No great reductions in it are possible unless Congress eliminates or curtails existing federal programs or all of us demand less service from the government, or unless we are willing to gamble with the security of our country."

On the defense front, Eisenhower said, "the first concern of all of us is to make sure of the defense of our homes, our country and our way of life" against the possibility of Communist aggression.

"For myself, I have seen unwise military cuts before. I have seen their terrible consequences. I am determined to do all I can to see that we do not follow that foolhardy road again."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The sale of household items, jewelry and clothing on Sunday would be prohibited under a bill before the Senate today.

The bill was introduced by Sens. Edward J. Kessler (Lancaster), Frank Koprivier Jr. (Allegheny) and Ernest F. Walker (Cambria), all Republicans.

Other bills introduced in the Senate yesterday would:

Authorize appointment of parents as guardians of minors' estates composed entirely of corporate stock—Wolfe (R—Union).

Place under State Highways Department supervision 58 of a mile of roadway in Titusville, Mahanoy (R—Crawford).

Provide for reinstatement in the retirement systems of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties those persons returning to county employment—Mallery (R—Blair), Walker (R—Cambria).

Authorize borough councils to enact and enforce fire prevention codes—Kromer (R—Jefferson), Walker.

Transfer the junior historian unit from the Public Instruction Department to the state historical and museum commission—Hays (D—Centre), Elliot (R—Franklin).

Place under State Highways Department supervision 2 of a mile of roadway in Hempfield Twp., Westmoreland County—Dent (D—Westmoreland).

SEEK GREEN CAR IN OLD SLAYING

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The renewed investigation into the slaying of Miss Marguerite Keots, 22, three years ago turned to the clue of the green car today.

The mystery car was seen parked near the abandoned country schoolhouse in Schuylkill Twp. about the same time police believe the pretty Phoenixville girl was stabbed three times and left in a water-filled pit.

Chester County Dist. Atty. John E. Stively Jr. said he believes "it was the car driven by the murderer."

Stively said a state policeman has been specially assigned to question a group of young men who reported seeing the green car when they drove past the old school house on the morning of March 4, 1954.

Stively also said police are seeking to trace several male acquaintances of the slain girl—one in particular.

"He may be completely in the summer camping. The Brownies are invited to come to the Scout cabin May 18 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for lunch and activities. The Intermediate Troop has reserved July 29, 30 and 31 for camping at Happy Valley. They will prepare by camping in patrols before that time.

In 1900 influenza and pneumonia took a toll of 80 lives per 100,000 population in the ages of 15 to 44. In 1955 the mortality from these causes had dropped to around 4 per 100,000 persons in the same age group.

Man has known and used glass for many centuries. Long before he was able to make it, he shaped objects from glass formed by nature. Some 5,000 years ago he learned to make glass, to combine the basic ingredients, sand, soda and lime, and to fuse or melt them with intense heat.

Man-made glass began as a decorative glaze on pottery or stone; later, solid glass objects were formed. Early pieces that have been preserved from ancient Egypt indicate that a high degree of craftsmanship in glassmaking existed as far back as 2,000 B.C. Beautiful objects were made of glass in many parts of the world centuries ago—in Persia and Syria, in the Far East, in Greece and Rome. Ancient glassmaking skills survived the Dark Ages in Continental Europe into the Renaissance era, when Venetian and Florentine artists created glass masterpieces of exquisite beauty.

The 18th century was a great period of glassmaking in the British Isles. Glassmaking came to America with the first colonists at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1608. In each country and period, glass craftsmen developed different traditions and employed individual techniques,

AVENUE DINER WILL OPERATE 16 HRS. DAILY

The Avenue Diner has abandoned its late nighttime operations, not because of lack of customers, but because of inability to obtain employees for the period between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

G. Earl and Grover E. Thompson today announced that their plan to operate the diner at 21 Steinwehr Ave. on a 24-hour-a-day basis has been curtailed due to lack of help and the establishment will operate from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week.

The diner opened for business April 10 offering a la carte service, platters, full-course dinners and fountain service. The dining room seats 74 persons and there is a parking area for 30 cars.

The co-proprietors, Earl Thompson and his son, Grover, report that a mural depicting the 227-year Orton Plantation in Wilmington, N. C., covering the upper part of the north wall has attracted much attention since the Avenue Diner opened.

A pink, gray, antique white and aquamarine color scheme is carried out in the dining room. A formica fountain in a marble pattern extends nearly the length of the south wall with fountain seats covered in pink leather-type fabric. The wall behind the fountain is mirrored. Nine booths in pink, trimmed with antique white, line the north wall. In the center of the room are a number of hexagonal-shaped tables of formica marble. Chairs are covered in antique white. Pink and gray ceramic tile flooring is used throughout the restaurant.

Stop Enlisting Pre-Draft Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it has temporarily stopped enlisting youths for six months' training.

Asst. Secretary of the Army Hugh Milton, who announced the suspension yesterday, said it would not apply to the National Guard, which also is accepting recruits for six months of training.

Milton said the move was necessary because of a recent rush of youths into the program. Some Army officials said the increase was due to an April 1 order reducing the ready reserve obligation of participants from 7½ to 3 years. Service in the reserve follows the six-month active duty training.

Milton said last December, only 1,893 men signed up under the six-month program. This month, he added, the total is 12,000.

News Briefs

NEIGHBOR SAW WIFE OVER BODY OF SLAIN MATE

SCRANTON, (AP) — A neighbor testified yesterday she found Mrs. Doris Gribbin, 40, kneeling beside the husband she is accused of shooting to death as her three small children stood by.

Mrs. Gribbin sobbed in the courtroom as she listened to the testimony of Mrs. Zella Beavers, a neighbor at nearby Mt. Cobb, Pa.

Mrs. Beavers said she was summoned to the Gribbin home by 12-year-old Doris Gribbin with these words:

"Please come, mommy shot daddy."

Hurrying to the Gribbin home, Mrs. Beavers said, she found Mrs. Gribbin kneeling and crying with her arms across the chest of her dead husband, who lay face up in the living room.

"I didn't mean to hurt him. I love my husband," Mrs. Gribbin said, according to the witness.

Jean Helen Gribbin, 8, stood near by. Mrs. Beavers testified, and said to her father:

"I'm glad you're dead, because now you can't hurt my mommy and us kids no more."

Mrs. Beavers said the dead man's wife was nervous and there was "blood on her face—on her cheek." The blood came from a gash on Mrs. Gribbin's forehead, which she told police she suffered when her husband pushed her against a door frame shortly before the shooting.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William J. Kearney charged yesterday that Gribbin, formerly of Glen Cove, Long Island, N.Y., was shot in the back in an "intentional and deliberate murder."

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House defeated last night a bill which would have required automatic suspension of a liquor license after two or more citations for liquor code violations. The measure would have abolished the use on second or subsequent suspensions of a $10 a day compromise paid by the licensee to stay open during his suspension period.

Accidents in the U. S. decrease in the spring, but June is the peak month for injuries and fatalities.

Secure Jury For Trial Of Ex-Marine

HACKENSACK, N. J. (AP) — The prosecution and defense make their opening statements today in the trial of Edgar Smith, 23-year-old ex-Marine charged with the slaying of a teenage girl.

The 14th and last juror was chosen yesterday after opposing lawyers ran through 100 members of a special panel.

Smith, the father of an infant girl, sat calmly through yesterday's proceedings taking notes and conferring from time to time with his counsel, John E. Seiser.

His 19-year-old wife, Patricia, and his mother, Mrs. Alexander Chupak sat together in the courtroom. They were joined by Smith's stepfather.

Smith, a handsome blond youth, is accused of bludgeoning Victoria Zielinski to death with rocks in a lonely gravel pit in Mahwah last March 4.

3 SCHOOLS IN PENNSYLVANIA ARE SEGREGATED

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania, where racial segregation in schools has been outlawed for decades, found itself today with three public school districts admittedly practicing it.

Gov. George M. Leader immediately promised to stamp it out—but without saying how. His state superintendent of public instruction, Charles H. Boehm, said it was a local law enforcement problem.

Leader, a 39-year-old Democrat who long has championed civil rights, ordered a survey last October on how the state's more than 2,400 school districts were doing on the controversial segregation issue.

Surprising Results
The results came out last night—the nature of them surprising many on the official Harrisburg scene.

Officials of three school districts admitted in a state questionnaire that Negroes were kept apart from white students in an elementary school in each district.

The schools are located at Coatesville, a steelmaking community about 30 miles east of Philadelphia; in the Kennett consolidated system in the same county as Coatesville, and at Steelton-Highspire, near Harrisburg, the state capital.

Integration Efforts
In each case, the local school superintendent said integration efforts were under way and would be completed in periods ranging from six months to three years.

The segregated school in the Kennett Consolidated District is named the Thaddeus Stevens School. Stevens, a Pennsylvania congressman, was one of the nation's strongest abolitionist voices more than a century ago.

School Supt. H. T. Griffith said a new school building would bring an end to segregation in his district but he wrote the Department of Public Instruction:

Coercion Won't Help
"If the Steelton situation is left to itself, complete integration will be achieved by September 1958 without incident or the arousal of

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's nationwide broadcast—both a defense of his record and a plea for public support of it—contained nothing new. But it was made under extraordinary circumstances.

This was not a fighting talk. The only reason for making the speech was that Republicans and Democrats in Congress were whacking big chunks out of his budget. But he said not a word critical of Congress.

All he said—if summed up in one sentence—is what he has been saying since he offered his budget of almost 72 billion dollars to Congress earlier this year: that it is as tight as he can make it.

Asks Public Support
He was in effect pleading for public pressure on Congress not to cut. This will be a switch if the public responds. Members of Congress, running around with axes, have been saying they're under tremendous public pressure to reduce spending.

Perhaps Eisenhower has already despaired of saving the nondefense parts of his budget, where cutting has already been voted. He put the most emphasis tensions which could very easily destroy the fine working relationship which now exists in our high school and other integrated schools.

"With coercion or interference with present plans, existing elements could very easily be 'jarred' into a pattern of dissension similar to the deplorable and tragic events which we have been reading about in areas as close as our neighboring states."

on the defense spending, where cutting is just getting under way. But the President, who seems to shrink from even tiny conflict with the lawmakers, had the courage to warn his listeners not to expect much lower budgets in the future because of the continuing need for big spending on defense.

It was Rep. Richard Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican House Campaign Committee, who over the weekend put the biggest twist yet on the President's problems.

Paper Quotes Simpson
The Milwaukee Journal quoted him as telling a Republican women's meeting in Wisconsin that the mistakes of government are the fault of "deadwood New Dealers frozen in the various offices."

They are the ones, he was quoted as saying, who are to blame for the budget "now being condemned on every side."

Either Simpson is wrong or someone is keeping this information from Eisenhower, who took full responsibility for the budget last night. He said it was made up "under my personal direction by men and women who believe deeply in economy and efficiency in government."

IKE FACES FIGHT IN CONGRESS ON YUGOSLAV JETS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today faced a fight in Congress over his decision to resume delivery of jet fighters and other military equipment to Yugoslavia.

The decision was announced yesterday by the State Department.

Officials said some older type jets have been reconditioned in Europe and are ready for prompt delivery to President Tito's air force. Yugoslavia will get about 200 jets, F86Es and F86Gs. Other equipment now authorized for Yugoslavia includes tanks and howitzers.

Suspended Last Summer
All military shipments except spare parts were suspended last summer after Tito and the Soviet leaders patched up relations.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said last night he considered the decision to resume shipments "a great mistake." "I'm opposed to it," he said. "Along with Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) and others, I led the fight against aid to Yugoslavia last year, and I still feel the same way about it."

Serious Results
The issue now is expected to take shape in both the Senate and the House when the lawmakers consider the President's proposed new $3,880,000,000 foreign aid program. Presumably efforts will be made to write into the new bill a provision barring assistance to Yugoslavia.

The State Department announcement said failure of the United States to deliver arms since last summer has produced "serious disadvantages" in Yugoslavia's defensive position. Neighboring countries allied with Russia have been—and are still being—"re-equipped with modern Soviet military supplies," it said.

The State Department linked the new decision to Yugoslavia's sympathy for the independence uprising in Hungary last fall.

The National Geographic Society has dug up the puzzling information that the West Fork of the South Fork of the North Fork of the San Joaquin River is in California.

GRANDMOTHER GRADUATES AT 46 FROM HS

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. John Lucas, a 46-year-old grandmother, was graduated with top honors from Wilburton High School last night.

Now she's going to college on a scholarship hoping to become a teacher.

Her daughter LaDawn witnessed the graduation ceremony. She won't graduate until next year.

Mrs. Lucas, three times a grandmother, won her cap and gown as covaldectorian. She had a grade average of 7.3 out of a possible 8.

Plans To Be Teacher
The wife of a miner, Mrs. Lucas said she always wanted to complete her high school education. "So, I decided to go back to school," she explained. She had quit school after the seventh grade.

"Everyone seems to like Mrs. Lucas and she fits in well here," said the Wilburton High School

Mead lost only one of 26 games and won the Colorado class B championship.

BILLY GRAHAM BEGINS APPEAL IN NEW YORK

By GEORGE CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—To the strains of "Blessed Assurance," Billy Graham steps before the spotlights tonight to begin a six-week appeal to the conscience of New Yorkers.

His crusade, in active preparation for more than two years, opens at Madison Square Garden. It will be the evangelist's first full-scale effort in the world's greatest city, with big stakes involved churchwise.

Choir Of 1,500
Nearly 60 per cent of the city's eight million people don't participate in any church or synagogue. As in many Graham campaigns, the theme music before Graham takes the platform will be from the old hymn "Blessed Assurance," chorused by a choir of 1,500.

Loud-speakers have been installed outside the arena to pipe the service to any overflow crowd. The Garden seats 18,000.

Dedicates Arena
In a brief ceremony last night, attended by ushers, choir members and other crusade personnel, Graham dedicated the arena to

Negro Woman Is Honored By Teachers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Negro woman who has taught in the public school system for nearly 35 years today becomes the president of the Philadelphia Teachers Assn., the first of her race to hold the office.

She is Mrs. Edna Westberry Griffin, a sixth grade teacher who holds degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia. She was chosen through balloting at the city's 243 public schools. Two other candidates ran against her.

the service of God.

Graham, terming the crusade his most challenging yet, has expressed hopes it will bring a resurgence of religious dedication in the city, reviving faith and invigorating forces that influence the entire nation.

All through last night, marathon prayer meetings were held in numerous New York City churches and others elsewhere, asking divine guidance toward success for the crusade.

Sponsored B. Church Body
The Rev. Dr. Phillips Elliott, president of the Protestant Council of Manhattan, will give the invocation at the opening service, with the benediction by the Rev. John Wimbish, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

Graham will be presented by Roger Hall, vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York and chairman of the executive committee for the crusade. The crusade is sponsored by the Protestant Council of New York, an interdenominational body.

CHIEF OF POLICE TO BE SPEAKER FOR LIONS CLUB

Littlestown Chief of Police Calvin S. Mummert will be the guest speaker at the second May dinner meeting of the local Lions Club, on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran Church social hall. The program is in charge of the Safety Committee, composed of Harry T. Harner, Amos L. Spangler and Clarence M. King.

The Southern Agriculture 4-H Club will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Joseph Maddox, near town.

Nomination and election of officers will take place at the meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and Vicinity this evening, 7:45 o'clock, in the POS of A Hall. Miss Helga Pilgwein, German refugee student at Littlestown High School, will be present to speak informally to the group. Mrs. Edward T. Richardson Sr. is chairman of the May program committee, and Mrs. Roy D. Renner heads the hostess committee.

Entertain Brownies
The Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, entertained the Brownies and Girl Scouts of the community at dance on Monday evening in the basement room of the Eagles' Home. There was recorded music provided for the Brownies to dance early in the evening, and leaders who attended with them were Mrs. William R. Keefer, Mrs. Earl Zumburn, Mrs. Clarence J. Krichen Jr., Mrs. Harry W. Staveland Jr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ritter. The latter is neighborhood chairman of the local Girl Scouting organization. A four-piece orchestra was on hand for the Scout dance later that evening. Leaders present with the Scouts were Mrs. Kenneth K. Kroh, Mrs. Robert H. Miller, Mrs. Charles E. Rabenstein, Mrs. Monroe J. Morelock and Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 43 went to the Meadowview Convalescent Home, Lear Union Mills, on Saturday morning to deliver Mother's Day favors for the guests there, which the troop had made. The girls were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Kenneth K. Kroh and Mrs. Robert H. Miller. On the return trip to town, the girls enjoyed lunch outdoors, which they had packed for the occasion. At that time they also completed work on the Mother's Day gifts which they made for their own mothers, slippers out of washcloths. This project was work required toward earning the sewing badge.

Rotarians Hear Pastor

The weekly meeting of Troop 43 was held on Monday after school in the engine house. The opening ceremonies were in charge of patrol two. Mrs. Miller was in charge of a quiz review on first aid and woodworking. She also gave birdhouses for assembling to those girls who had not already completed this work toward their wood working badge. Uniform inspection was conducted, and those Scouts who did not wear their uniforms should do so for the meeting next Monday at 3:30 p.m. It was announced that the troop will sell peanuts, and the proceeds will be used toward a troop camping trip at Camp Happy Valley, the County Council camp site, near Fairfield.

The Rev. Rodney T. Yates, new pastor at Centenary Methodist Church, was the guest speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the local Rotary Club Tuesday evening at Schott's Hotel. Pastor Yates chose as his subject "Mental Health." Two visiting Rotarians were introduced, J. Walter McClough, Hanover, and J. C. Shank, Gettysburg. The program was arranged by the Fellowship and Attendance Committee, Nevaeh A. Crouse, chairman.

The Rotarians will meet again next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m., when the program will be in charge of the community service committee, composed of Walter F. Crouse, chairman, Thomas C. McSherry, Dr. Donald B. Coover, Carl F. Hermann, Charles E. Ritter and Roy D. Knouse. The club will observe Ladies' Night on May 28, when a memorial service will be presented in charge of the program committee.

31 BOYS, GIRLS RECEIVE FIRST COMMUNION

EMMITTSBURG — Thirty-one boys and girls received their first Holy Communion in St. Joseph's Catholic Church Sunday morning at the 8:30 o'clock mass.

The Rev. Michael Flannery was the celebrant and delivered the sermon. Pink gladioli and lilies of the valley adorned the altar.

Those who received their first Holy Communion were: Edward Adelberger, Raymond Baker, Julie Eckenrode, Joseph Gelwicks, Roger Harner, Simon P. Hobbs, Joseph Keeney, Rebecca Keilholz, Paul Ling, Joyce Little, Brenda Lowe, Julie Neighbours, Thomas O'Brien, Victoria Ohler, Gloria Orndorff, Mary Ott, Edward Pryor, Wanda Rodgers, Roy Rohrbaugh, Judy Rosentel, Thomas Rightmire, John Sherwin, Diane Shields, James R. Shorb, Jane Stanley, Delores Timmerman, John Waters, Drucilla Weedon, Joseph Welty, Patricia Wetzel and Leslie Williams.

Procession In Evening

A May procession was held Sunday evening by the Children of Mary, the senior members of the Sodality and the first Communion Class. The cross bearer was John Balmer with Lawrence Orndorff as master and Eugene Ling as thurifer.

Bonnie Topper, a junior student, placed a crown of flowers on the statue of the Blessed Mother. Her attendants were six classmates.

The children participated in the crowning by singing "Mother Dear, Oh Pray for Me," "On this Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Tis the Month, Our Mother."

The service closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Court Weeps At Judge's Mistake

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A city magistrate and five persons in his court wept when two men appeared, charged with possession of a dangerous weapon.

The tearful scene took place when Chief Magistrate Nicholas Castellano examined the weapon. It was a small tear-gas "pencil," and the judge accidentally discharged it.

OFFICER TALKS TO LIONS CLUB

EMMITTSBURG — Trooper Robert Storer, Brunswick, of the Maryland State Police, was the guest speaker at the Emmitsburg Lions Club dinner-meeting Monday evening in the Lutheran Parish House.

He gave a brief history of the Maryland State Police and an outline of their duties. He stressed the need of an increase in the police force in Maryland "which is one hundred less than it should be."

The members decided to enter a float in the biennial parade June 22. President Charles Fuss appointed the following committee to build the float: Dr. D. L. Beegle, Ralph Ireland, J. Ward Kerrigan, John Hollinger and Clarence Hahn.

The club sponsors the local Boy Scout Troop. Scoutmasters Edward Houck and George Danner presented their annual reports. The membership now totals 31 boys.

3 NEW STEPS IN ATOMIC TESTING WILL BE TAKEN

By JACK LEFLER

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nevada. (AP)—Three important new steps in atomic testing will be taken in the series scheduled to open tomorrow.

But the possibility of rain or a cloud ceiling today posed a threat of postponement for the planned pre dawn blast.

A comparatively small atomic device, described as one half of normal, will launch "the most extensive series of tests ever held in Nevada." It will be exploded from a tower.

Plans For Test
Preliminary briefing of newsmen by nuclear scientists and military experts disclosed these test plans:

1. The first air-to-air rocket with an atomic warhead will be fired.
2. The proposed infantry of the atomic age will be tested for the first time.
3. Pigs, the largest animals ever placed under an atomic test here, will be used.

The rocket will be fired late in the series, which is to end Sept. 1. It will be launched from a manned aircraft, but there was no announcement of what, if any, target there will be.

Three New Concepts
The infantry maneuver, scheduled for Aug. 19, will involve three new concepts of ground warfare, based on a proposed new unit—the "battle group." These concepts are: establishment of a defense against nuclear attacks, mobility by air and supply by air.

The battle group will build with its own forces and equipment, within 24 hours, a protection against an atomic weapon or missile of artillery size. Some 1,400 men from Ft. Lewis, Wash., will be used.

The supposed enemy weapon will be dropped in the middle of the fortifications with the test troops withdrawn to a distance of about 4,500 yards. The purpose will be to determine how their protective efforts stand up.

In the second phase, the battle group will take the offensive and will be moved by helicopters to occupy a strategic site.

The third phase will utilize helicopters to supply the entrenched force and to evacuate casualties.

The Orange (length 750 miles) is the longest river in South Africa.

Motter's Community Pure Food Store, Gardners, Plans Grand Re-Opening

Upper Community Business Enlarged And Modernized; Will Observe Anniversary Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Motter's Community Pure Food store at Gardners will observe its 11th anniversary and grand re-opening in a newly enlarged and remodeled quarters this weekend.

The store, established in 1946 by G. Edwin Motter, for the last year has been operating amidst changes and enlargement.

In the rear of the original building has been added a new concrete block warehouse. On the second floor is an apartment for the proprietor and his wife. The wall that once separated the store from its original warehouse area has been cut away, and that section added to the space available for store room.

At the front of the structure a porch has been built. A new entrance has been established along the north side of the building.

New Shelves Erected

Shelving that had been along the north wall was removed, and new shelves have been constructed filling the interior of the store.

New fluorescent lighting fixtures have been installed. New flooring was placed.

In the rear, taking up part of the space of the warehouse addition to the store structure, were constructed a walk-in meat refrigerator and a meat-cutting department. The store, which sold quantities of pre-cut meat previously, is now able to provide its own butchering, buying entire hives and cutting them as required.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday those visiting the store will register and Saturday night a number of awards will be given away including 20 baskets of groceries and ten half-gallons of ice cream.

Free Coffee, Balloons

Also to be awarded are bathroom scales and two pairs of men's work shoes.

Free coffee will be served Saturday, Planter's "Mr. Peanut" will be at the store and Kunzler and Co. will have a special representative present.

Kiddies will find balloons available for them, free.

Mr. Motter, a native of Two Taverns, who for many years worked at Gardners as an electrician for the Metropolitan Edison Co., purchased the store from H. E. Mills in March 1946.

In 1949 he completely changed the store into a self-service unit and new counters and food bins were installed, shelves against the walls were lowered to make the merchandise more easily accessible to the customers. Fluorescent lights were installed for better illumination and new feature: added including a deepfreeze unit to handle frozen foods.

Increase Floor Space

With the enlargement of the store from an area of 30 by 60 feet to one covering 30 by 86 feet during the last year, the store was completely changed, with new central shelves placed, the frozen food area and the meat department more than doubled, and all other sections of the store enlarged.

The store merchandises a wide variety of items. There are large stocks of hardware, tools, paints and feed; fresh meats of all kinds; cold cuts, dairy products, vegetables; frozen, canned and fresh; work clothing, shoes, rubbers and articles for men, women and children; school supplies, groceries, dishes, baked goods, ice cream, candy, tobacco, toilet goods and drugs, novelties and a host of household needs.

Son Is War Veteran

Interest of G. Thomas Motter, son of the proprietor, in the meat department has led to much of the expansion in that division of the Gardners institution. The younger Motter has taken over full-time work with his father in the conduct of the store but is most proud of the meat section.

Thomas, now 26, is a veteran of three years service with the signal corps. He was discharged as a corporal after serving in Korea. Mrs. Motter the former Miss Jeanne Howe, of Gardners R. D., also works part time in the store.

Another son of the proprietor, Gene R. Motter, who served three years in the armed forces after graduating from Biglerville High School, is a bookkeeper at Kuhn Transportation Co. and works part time in his father's store.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Edwin Motter resided in a home across the street from the store for 11 years but have moved to the apartment above the store. Thomas and his family reside in the former home of the parents.

Active In Many Affairs

Miss Zoe E. Haskell is a clerk. She also was employed by Mr.

G. Edwin Motter, proprietor of Motter's Store in Gardners, is shown in front of the new tool display at his newly remodeled and enlarged store.

Meals when he was the proprietor. G. Edwin Motter is a member of the board of the P.A. and S. Small Inc. Thomas represents the store at many weekly sessions of the P.A. and S. Small Co.

The elder Mr. Motter is also active in Boy Scouting, serving as chairman of Boy Scout Troop 75 of Idaville-Gardners. He also serves as superintendent of the Aspers Lutheran Sunday School and is a trustee and member of the council of that church. He is also a partner in a hunting camp in Potter County.

ABBOTTSTOWN — Additional plans for the annual carnival on July 18, 19 and 20 were made at a recent meeting of the Abbottstown Fire Co.

Norman Moul, Arthur Diehl, Ray Pyles, Clyde Wagner and Theodore Unger were admitted as new members. James Gross was appointed as a fire policeman.

Receipts of $90 were reported and bills totaling $55 were approved for payment. It was announced the annual election of officers will be held Tuesday evening, June 4.

It was revealed $578 was received from the borough and township commission for the Foreign Fire Insurance Co. and will be kept in a separate account to be used only in case of accident incurred in the line of duty.

No fire calls were reported during the past month. A total of 23 members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Violet Rodgers recently entertained the following in honor of her son, Raymond, who will leave soon for Pueblo, Colo., after spending several weeks here: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shoemaker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Coulson, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Sullivan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Clouser and family, Mrs. Naomi Harget and two children, Margaret Sullivan, John Sullivan Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, John Godfrey and son, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ensminger and family.

Ellis Stambaugh and his brother, G. Marion Stambaugh, left today on a 10-day trip to Texas.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves had the longest major league hitting streak in 1956, batting safely in 25 straight games.

Confusion Reigns At Bank Fire Drill

PHILADELPHIA — The bi-monthly fire drill at the Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Co. building was one mass of confusion when it was mistaken for the real thing.

Every two months the building has a drill. A dispatcher for a private fire and burglar alarm system alerts each floor and its occupants file out.

But this time a new dispatcher was on hand. He got his signals crossed and turned in an alarm. Six engine and two ladder companies came.

him kicking. He was sore at its owner.

Murry, 21, claimed the owner of the car had beaten him up. Only trouble was — Murry had the wrong car. It belonged to a man he didn't even know.

The car suffered body damage, smashed tail lights and broken windows. Murry was held in $500 bail on a charge of malicious mischief.

Rumrunner Cured Of Hiccups In Court

PHILADELPHIA — David Ganitt, 42, up before a federal judge on a bootleg booze-running charge, pleaded: "I just can't hold a job on account of the hiccups. I go all to pieces."

It has been like that for years.

Ganitt said, adding that that anything he tackled — say helping out in a garage, the closest to a steady job he could remember —

Monkey Trapped After 2 Months

PHILADELPHIA — They finally caught Mike the monkey yesterday after he had been annoying North Philadelphia residents for two months.

Richard Guilons was eating breakfast when Mike came bounding in through an open window. Police were called. In the chase the monkey knocked over crockery, started an automatic washer and opened the refrigerator. They finally trapped him in a kitchen cabinet.

No one knows who owns him.

Ganitt was arrested here some time ago by agents of the federal alcohol tax unit, who testified he had driven in from Greensboro, N. C., with 120 gallons of raw alcohol aboard.

The judge fined Ganitt $100 and sentenced him to a year in jail. Not a single hiccup was heard at the hearing.

Senate Committee Favors Medial Barrier On Pike

HARRISBURG (AP)—Medial barrier construction along the Pennsylvania Turnpike gained another legislative endorsement in the report of a special Senate investigating committee.

The committee's final report, submitted yesterday, repeats the recommendation of a 1953 Joint Legislative Turnpike Safety Committee which first suggested use of medial strips to reduce cross-over accidents.

The number of miles of steel medial barrier now in use along the 400-mile superhighway system has not been determined exactly. In November, 1955, Gov. Leader announced "extensive plans" for construction of 100 new miles of medial barrier in 1955, 1956 and 1957. This program has never been carried out. Last July there were only 20 miles of barrier, mostly along curved sections.

$25,000 A Mile
The commission has always been delayed in medial construction plans by the estimated $25,000-a-mile cost.

The latest legislative report makes three other recommendations but fails to touch upon the major problem that brought about its appointment last May 18—toll revisions.

The committee, headed by Sen. Robert D. Fleming (R—Allegheny) was named last May 18 to "inquire into and investigate the tolls charged by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission."

At that time the commission had announced a new rate schedule increasing passenger car tolls and decreasing truck charges. The revisions were eventually put off indefinitely.

Change Commission?
More than half of the committee's final report dealt with current proposals to change the makeup of the Turnpike Commission from a salaried to a non-salaried board.

It stated that "in order to eliminate the commission (in its present form) it may be necessary to first pay off all the bonded indebtedness of the commission." The committee took up two methods to do this.

They are: 1. Call in all outstanding bonds and reissue new bonds by the highway and bridge authority to replace them. The indebtedness would then become a direct obligation of the state to be paid from the motor license fund.

2. That the turnpike be included in the federal interstate highway system with the federal government paying 90 per cent of the cost.

The committee said it preferred the second method "if the freeing of the road is deemed to be the right move." The interstate system will not include toll roads when completed in another 15 years.

The turnpike has already been approved as part of the general location of an interstate road in Pennsylvania. However, Congress has yet to establish a method for reimbursing owners of toll roads taken into the system.

The committee estimated that if the road were taken over by the state "it would require a minimum of one cent extra gasoline tax" for supervision, maintenance and financing.

SENATE, HOUSE IN CONTEST TO "SAVE MONEY"

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional economy drive hit the Senate with full force today in the wake of a personal nationwide appeal by President Eisenhower in support of his budget.

The Senate, now apparently in a contest with the House over which can save the most money, takes up for action a money bill carrying $102,564,509 less than the President recommended, and $714,500 under the figure voted by the House.

The money is to finance the State and Justice Departments and the federal judiciary for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The Senate Appropriations Committee cleared the measure for floor action yesterday after chopping an additional $15,900,000 from funds voted by the House for the U. S. Information Agency. It recommended that the agency be returned to the State Department.

Rare To Vote Less
The over-all bill would provide $563,085,293, as compared with the $663,799,793 voted by the House. It is rare for the Senate

CUBA'S FIRST LADY CAPTURES CUBAN HEARTS

HAVANA (AP)—It may be true that Cuba's President Fulgencio Batista couldn't win a nationwide popularity contest, but one member of his family could.

That's his wife—tall, pretty, brunette Maria Fernandez Batista, whose grace, charm, and flashing green eyes seem to have captured the hearts of most of the Cuban people.

Of all who held the title of "Primera Dama" (First Lady) in the long series of presidential administrations in this revolution-conscious and sugar-rich land, she is the first who has worked tirelessly to promote the welfare of her people.

A striking figure, she has been to vote less money than the House.

But Senate Democratic Majority Leader Johnson (Tex.), who handled the bill in committee, is expected to maintain it intact on the floor.

The Senate committee recommended an appropriation of $90,200,000 to finance USIA's overseas operations, including the Voice of America, for the year. The House had voted $106,100,000, nearly 38 million less than the President asked.

The bill allows the State Department $193,478,242, an increase of $13,095,500 over what the House allowed. It also raised by four millions to 24 millions the amount the House voted for the educational exchange program. But it reduced the Justice Department $1,475,000 below the House figure, including a $150,000 cut for the FBI.

come one of Batista's most capable helpers, and often has soothed Latin tempers at the point of exploding in opposition to some of Batista's governmental policies.

Charitable Work
A devout Catholic, the First Lady, who has four sons and is expecting her fifth child, devotes every hour possible to charitable work, mostly through church organizations.

Specializing in the field of underprivileged children, she is known the length and breadth of the land as a "charming, sympathetic and hard worker to improve the lot of the poor people."

She lets nothing stand in the way of trying to help those who need assistance. Once, about four years ago, even though she was expecting a child, she braved the terrors of a hurricane to help the people in stricken villages of Cuba.

Cubans Love Her
All of this constitutes the reason why most all Cubans seem to love and respect the First Lady, and never does one hear a single word of criticism directed against her. As for her husband—well, that's different—he has an abundance of political enemies.

The First Lady does her charitable work quietly and without fanfare and never seeks, but rather shuns publicity.

But her tall, stately figure is easily spotted wherever she goes and crowds quickly gather. That's so even when she goes shopping downtown in Havana. Once she appears, crowds gather quickly to cheer her and kiss her hand.

Romantic Meeting
Batista's meeting with Maria Fernandez y Miranda was "accidental." Years ago, his automobile collided with a bicycle ridden by a pretty, green-eyed Cuban girl. No one was hurt seriously, but Batista took her to a first-aid station. His constant inquiries as to the state of her health soon developed into courtship and they married.

The Batistas' four sons are: Jorge, Carlos Manuel, Roberto Francisco and Fulgencio Jose. Fulgencio Jose, now four years old, was the first boy born in the presidential palace on Feb. 1, 1953. Roberto Francisco was born in the United States and his brothers call him "El Americano"—the American.

In addition, Batista has two daughters and a son by his first marriage.

ORIENTAL STAR WINS ACCLAIM IN CHINATOWN

By JIM THOMAS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Patricia Joe Wong, a San Francisco girl, who crossed the Pacific to become one of the brightest stars of the Oriental motion picture industry, is the current darling of Chinatown here.

Patricia Joe, whose stage name is Chow Kwan Ling, returned to San Francisco recently to visit her family and friends after 10 years of popular acclaim in Hong Kong, where she has been voted the most popular Chinese character actress and the movie queen of the crown colony.

Her husband, Wong Chiu Mo, a top ranking Chinese actor and opera star, and their 8-year-old daughter, Sandra, accompanied her here. Sandra, during the stay in America, has been enrolled in old St. Mary's School in Chinatown, where her mother went as a little girl.

Home-Town Fetes
The return of the exquisite young star and her family to San Francisco has been the signal for a round of civic luncheons, banquets tendered by Chinatown leaders and parties by her family and friends, all wishing to pay tribute to her beauty and talent.

Patricia Joe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Park, prominent San Francisco Chinese couple, began acting at St. Mary's

School and continued at the High School of Commerce. She was a charter member of the St. Mary's Footlight club and later became the first Chinese girl to act in a Chinese color film.

During the war years, Patricia Joe devoted herself to War Relief activities, acting in plays, theatrical shows and doing Oriental dance numbers for soldier benefits.

Movie Debut
When a motion picture company was established in the old Grandview Theater in Chinatown, she became one of the actresses and advanced to leading roles. When the company decided to expand and move to Hong Kong the director was so impressed with her talent that she was taken along.

During her rise to fame in Hong Kong, Chow Kwan Ling has studied to perfect the difficult art of the stylized traditional Chinese theater and has played a number of roles with her husband, although most of her work is in the modern day setting.

While in the United States, the Wongs plan to study motion picture techniques in Hollywood, organize a company in the form of the traditional Chinese theater here, and tour the major centers of Chinese population in this nation.

PTA Cleared About $300 At Festival

Exact figures are not yet available but officers of the Gettysburg Parent-Teacher Association reported today that best estimates are that last Friday's annual spring festival cleared "close to $300" for the PTA treasury and school projects. More than 2,000 persons attended the affair at the Keefauver school.

The gift package from the White House which was sold at the Parcel Post booth contained an etching of the White House, suitable for framing. It was accompanied by a letter from Mrs. Eisenhower's secretary expressing the First Lady's best wishes for the success of the festival.

Mrs. Russell Tharp, chairman of the Family Recreation, and Mrs. Carl Seifrit, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, that sponsored the festival, expressed their appreciation today to all who contributed to the success of the affair.

REPORTS BILL OUT

Assemblyman Francis Worley as chairman of the Aeronautics committee submitted a favorable report to the House on Tuesday on Senate Bill 271 which provides for inspection of instructions near airports. The bill already has passed the Senate.

TO OPEN SPAN OVER DELAWARE AT MIDNIGHT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The first hum of motor traffic will sound at midnight over the Delaware River on a new $5-million dollar bridge linking the Quaker City with Gloucester, near Camden, N. J., home of the span's namesake, poet Walt Whitman—who in similar commonplace noises, once heard "America Singing."

The distinguished representatives of both states will be headed by New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Charles C. Smith, auditor general of Pennsylvania, at an official opening ceremony at noon.

An exchange of handshakes across a double white line at the center of the bridge will replace the old fashioned ribbon cutting dedication.

Closed For Inspection
After the ceremony the bridge will be opened for inspection until 6 p.m. to pedestrians only. Then the span will be closed to prepare for the onslaught of "firsts" among the motorists of both states at midnight. It was to avoid this anticipated traffic congestion in the daytime that the vehicular opening was postponed from the noon hour.

The bridge and its approaches extend more than six miles from 28th St. and Vane Avenue in South Philadelphia to the Black Horse Pike in Haddon Twp., N.J. Under construction 3½ years, its overall length of 34,000 feet makes it one of the longest projects of its kind in the world.

Under the direction of the Delaware River Port Authority, set up by joint agreement of the two states, toll rates are the same as those charged on the slightly smaller Benjamin Franklin Bridge, a basic rate of 25 cents for passenger cars and light trucks.

THOMASVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Three candidates for ordination were accepted yesterday at the annual conference of the Mercersburg Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

They are Donald R. Moul, and Robert D. Myers, York, and Mrs. Arlene B. Studer, wife of the pastor of the Newport church. The Rev. Archie C. Rohrbaugh, York, was named moderator of the conference. Horace Ports, York, an elder, was named vice moderator.

QUITS U.S. JOB TO GO TO SCHOOL

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pennsylvanian is leaving his federal job today—to go back to college.

Frank C. Hilton, 48, closes his office door behind him to go to Springfield College in Massachusetts on June 11.

He'll continue through the summer school session and the following academic year to get his degree—25 years later than he originally anticipated.

Since last July, Hilton has been assistant administrator to Franklin G. Gloete, director of the General Services Administration.

Hilton previously was Pennsylvania state secretary of property and supplies. That was during the last year and a half of former Gov. John S. Fine's administration (1951-55).

Was Army Captain
A World War II Army captain with a year's service in Italy, Hilton has been active in veterans' affairs. He was national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1951-52 and Pennsylvania state commander in 1947-48.

He also has been very active in the Republican party. At one time he was state chairman of the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania.

And back home in Reading, Pa., he and his brother have a successful sales brokerage business.

Hilton will leave Washington June 1. His wife and two children, Gay, 6½, and Frank Jr., 3, will accompany him during his year at college.

LABOR ACT MAY BE AMENDED

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposed amendment to the State Labor Relations Act before the House today would require companies to grant hearings to employees it intends to fire.

The bill would amend the act to say that the accused in a rules infraction case must be present and "available for cross-examination by the employee."

The measure was introduced by Reps. Joseph McGee (D-Phila.) and Francis X. Muldowney (D-Phila.).

Other bills introduced in the House yesterday would:

Prohibit persons other than licensed dealers from receiving firearms by mail — Marsh (R-Clearfield), Fineman (D-Phila.), for installation of a filtration and chlorination system required by the State Health Department.

Looking down the central shelving at Motter's Store, Gardners, one sees hundreds of items available on newly constructed shelving. The large beams on the ceiling mark the section that was formerly warehouse space and now used as part of the store.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — Ernest Edwards, Kenneth Brown, Christina Curry, Preston Marshall, Mary Clapsadl, Stephen Newman, Robert Czwilina, Linda Hobbs, Diane Reese, Thomas McClellan and Richard Reese received their first Holy Communion at the 9 o'clock mass in St. Mary's Catholic Church on Sunday. Following the services a breakfast was served to the class members by the NCCW in the church social room. On Sunday afternoon the annual May procession and the crowning of the Blessed Mother were held. Miss Jean Sites presided as the May Queen. Her attendants were Nancy Weikert, Betty Kane, Lorraine Kane and Patricia McCauslin. The crown-bearer was Mary Clapsadl. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Father Heary, Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

The annual meeting of the Fairfield Community Council of the Fairfield Union Cemetery Association will be held in the Lutheran Parish House Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mickley and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Small spent Mother's Day with John Mickley Jr., a student at Pennsylvania State University, State College.

McCormack (D-Phila.) Prohibit fraudulent use of birth certificates, subject to a $1,000 fine—Breen (R-Centre), Tompkins (R-Cameron).

MEHRING RITES TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Jeanetta S. (Fornwalt) Mehring, 70, wife of Robert L. Mehring Sr., Lumber St., Littlestown, who died at her home on Monday at 6:25 a.m., were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the J. W. Little and Son Funeral Home, Littlestown. The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in Mt. DeHoff, Walter Yingling, Emerson F. Muller, J. Ray Reindollar, Merle Little and Harry W. Badders.

Mrs. Joseph Busney, president of St. Mary's Parish Council, NCCW, presided at the meeting held in the church social room Monday evening. Plans were made for a strawberry festival to be held in the church grove Saturday, June 22. It was announced that proceeds from the rummage sale held in Gettysburg last week amounted to $28.25.

Officers elected to serve next year were: President, Mrs. Robert Fite; vice president, Mrs. Roger Topper; secretary, Mrs. Harry Kane, and treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

Mrs. Robert Fites reported on the NCCW convention held in Gettysburg recently. Mrs. Busney extended an invitation to the group to a picnic to be held at her home on Monday evening, June 17. Following adjournment, a covered dish supper was served.

More than 160,000 National Guardsmen were called to active duty during the Korean emergency.

Mrs. Boehner, reporting for Miss Dorothy Foth, chairman of the Civic and Welfare committee, said that, for the past two months, cookies for the parties held for the young people at the Day Care Center were donated by Mrs. George Ditchburn. Initials for their play-aprons were donated by Mrs. Brenda Walker and ice cream by Miss Foth. Flowers for March and April were delivered to Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, an honorary member of the club who resides at the Snyder Convalescent Home, Lincolnway West.

Mrs. Hennig, the club representative to the Women's Civic Council, told of a recent meeting when state and borough policemen discussed traffic lights for Lincoln Square and Mrs. James Gregg, representative to the Adams County Home Auxiliary, asked for contributions of baked goods or saleable articles for the annual Visitation Day to be held at the county home on June 22 for the benefit of the auxiliary, which in turn uses the funds for the benefit of the guests residing there.

The club will serve as the hostess group for the meeting of the auxiliary of the Annie M. Warner Hospital May 27.

The gift, donated by Miss Virginia Myers, was awarded to Mrs. Ziegler. Twenty members attended.

BURY MRS. SMITH

Funeral services for Mrs. Ethel A. Smith, 70, widow of Charles B. Smith, who died at her home in York Springs last Saturday, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pittenturf Funeral Home in York Springs with the Rev. Norman L. Borner, York Springs Lutheran pastor, officiating. Interment was made in Sunnyside Cemetery. The pallbearers were Elmo, Clair and John Smith, Harold and Paul Miller and Archie Guise.

TORNADOES HIT MIDWEST AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudy and wet weather was reported in wide areas of the country today after a series of violent storms in sections of the Midwest.

Tornadoes, severe thunderstorms and heavy rains struck areas in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa, but no deaths or serious injuries were reported.

Precipitation in the early morning was reported in most areas except the middle and lower Mississippi valleys and the Ohio Valley. However, only scattered showers hit the Southeast and Texas.

The low center which moved across the upper Great Lakes region yesterday, triggering the stormy weather, brought thunderstorms and showers in the upper Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms with hail and strong winds also struck areas in the plains states.

Locally heavy thunderstorms rumbled across areas in Pennsylvania, New York, New England and the Middle Atlantic Coast states.

Tornadoes skipped across areas near Grandville and Jamestown, Mich., about 20 miles southwest of Grand Rapids, last night. Earlier, a twister hit rural areas near Blooming Prairie, Minn., near Rochester.

Coppersmith March, East Side, West Side and the Fifth Grade Band will present Loch Lomond and Blue Danube.

The stage properties and art work are under the direction of Richard Krick, art supervisor. Accompanists for the musicale include Mrs. Rebekah Fox, Mrs. Marion Sloat and Sharon Nett.

The vocal music is directed by Mrs. Barbara B. Strickhouser and the bands are under the direction of Robert G. Zeigler.

FEAR BILL TO BOOST SCHOOL AID MAY FADE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gloomy prospects today confronted a plan to increase state aid for schools by $30,300,000 in the next two years under a revamped formula.

It isn't the increase itself that's running into trouble from both big city and rural school districts. It's the way the increase would be divided.

Rep. George A. Goodling (R-York), a backer of the plan, said amendments may be required to make the measure palatable to opponents who feel schools in their home districts would be short-changed.

"There is a lot of misunderstanding on what this bill actually does," he told a newsman. "It may take amendments to straighten it out to the satisfaction of most House members."

Sent To Committee
The bill was sent to the House Appropriations Committee yesterday until the legislative storm blows over. Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said it was not dead.

The legislation was sent to the floor by the House Education Committee a week ago as the answer to Gov. Leader's veto last year of a school bill on the ground of insufficient funds.

It increases the maximum school subsidy from $3.100 per teaching unit (22 high school students or 30 elementary) to $6,000 in the 1957-58 school year and $6,300 in 1958-59.

Complex Formula
But an important change involves the complex formula for making the payments. It would require school districts to put up a larger share of their own funds to qualify for state aid.

In effect, wealthier school districts—those with higher real estate values—would receive less money proportionately than poorer school districts.

Other legislative developments: Final Adjournment—The Senate unanimously adopted a resolution fixing final adjournment of the

New Chief Mining Engineer For Pike

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission yesterday named a Kingston man to the newly-created post of chief mining engineer for the turnpike's Northeast Extension.

Dr. Merritt A. Williamson, commission vice chairman, appointed Harry W. Montz, a veteran mining engineer, to the $13,000 a year post. Montz will have offices in the Anthracite Institute Building, Wilkes-Barre.

Montz formerly was employed by the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. and as a consultant for the J. G. White Engineering Corp., New York. He is a graduate and a former trustee of Pennsylvania State University.

UNION REJECTS ULTIMATUM BY TRANSIT FIRM

MAHANOY CITY, Pa. (AP)—Striking members of the Transport Workers Union Local 153 last night rejected a two-cent wage offer from the Schuylkill Transit Co. in the face of a company ultimatum that it would go out of business if its offer was not accepted.

The 27 members of the local, who have been idle since May 1, expiration date of the last contract, voted down the company offer after being told of the ultimatum by Jack Barry, secretary of the local.

It was announced that the striking employees have applied for state unemployment compensation on the ground that the company's "bargaining in bad faith" constituted a lockout. The claim of failure to bargain in good faith was made by Andrew Kaelin, union international vice president, whose quote was a reference to the company ultimatum reported to have been made to union negotiators in Philadelphia.

Scales Not Disclosed
The transit firm has 19 buses which serve some 10,000 residents in Mahanoy City.

PARIS MILLINER DESIGNS HATS FOR ELIZABETH

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP)—The only French designer who helps to dress the Queen of England is hatmaker Claude Saint-Cyr. She probably owes the honor to being what the French call "sage," or sensible.

But Madame Saint-Cyr, a tall, statuesque brunette of 45, thinks that a new hat should be worn for a month and then discarded. Even her hats, which cost an average of $60 each.

"Some hats," she says, "the eccentric ones, are finished after an hour."

She admits, however, that her most prized client does not agree with this theory.

First Model
"The Queen still remembers and likes the first hat I ever made for her. It was of white stitched satin, a rolled-black model. She wore it many times."

Among other Saint-Cyr clients are the Duchess of Windsor, the Begum Aga Khan, Mrs. Averell Harriman, French movie queen Martine Carol, Hollywood's Eleanor Parker, Queen Sorova of Iran, the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret, in addition to numerous American tourists.

In her Faubourg St. Honore salons, where she has been installed for 20 years, Madame Saint-Cyr was busy one day recently with a middle-aged American client.

"Madame," she said firmly, "every year I make you the same 'at. Really it is too much. Everyones must change sometime."

of Shenandoah, Mahanoy City, Ashland, Frackville, Pottsville and a number of smaller communities, in the area.

Barry said the union had asked for a 21 cent across-the-board increase, a compromise offer from its original 30-cent demand.

He said the union would resume negotiations if the state mediation service entered the dispute.

Former wage scales were not disclosed.

Additions to Motter's Store are shown from the exterior. The new entrance is about halfway back along the side of the original store. In the rear is the new warehouse-apartment addition which permitted enlargement of the old storeroom.

Accents Nose
"But this hat makes my nose look too long," complained the customer.

"Now, madame, you are only fishing for compliments. You want me to say your nose is not too long," the royal hatmaker replied tartly.

The chastened customer muttered feebly, "I don't want to look different, I just want to look lovely." And Madame Saint-Cyr turned away.

"The present trend is towards bigger, more feminine, more fluffy hats," she said. "No, American customers are not more difficult than any others."

Follows Fashion
"Princess Margaret follows the fashions more than the Queen. I have been making 'ats for Queen Elizabeth for four years, but I am not allowed to say 'ow many."

Madame Saint-Cyr is the wife of interior decorator Georges Martin, and mother of an 11-year-old daughter, Christine. She likes art and exhibitions, collects paintings, and loves cooking and gardening at her country home. A Parisienne by birth, daughter of a casino worker, she did a two-year unpaid stint as an apprentice milliner, starting at 18. Later she worked for several noted Paris hatters, among them Patou and Rose De-scat, before setting up on her own.

Royal dressmaker Norman Hartnell chose her to do his hats just before the coronation. She has

Ten Pennsylvania Bridges Are Made Toll-Free Today

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader marks the end of 32-year-campaign today when he fixes in place a huge black and white sign declaring "No Tolls—Free Bridge."

The sign will stand on Island Park in the Susquehanna River, next to three toll booths on the Harrisburg-West Shore Market Street Bridge. It will signify the official freezing from all tolls of the 10 bridges bought by the state in 1949 for $1½ million dollars.

Another of the toll bridges, the Walnut Street span, is located a block from the Market Street Bridge at Harrisburg. The others are at Sunbury, Ellwood City-Koppel, Bethlehem (2), Clarks Ferry, Allentown, Charleroi and Point Marion.

Since 1925 the Legislature has been passing laws and authorizing bond issues in an attempt to end toll charges on the 10 spans. They were built by private bridge companies along state highways.

Special Ceremonies
Special ceremonies marking the last toll payment were scheduled for most of the bridges with Chambers of Commerce, auto clubs and community officials participating.

The freeing time, officially set by Gov. Leader a week ago, comes many years ahead of original estimates. When the bridges were bought in 1949 the estimated freeing date was 15-20 years although the bonds finally called for full redemption on Oct. 1, 1961.

Last February the Highway Department estimated that tolls collected by the end of 1956 would be enough to pay off the bonds in full. Early this year May 31 was fixed as the last estimate. All the money paid for the bridges had to be repaid before any of the spans could be free under the legislation authorizing their purchase.

Million A Year
Toll collections run about a million dollars a year with the passenger car fee five cents at all but the Sunbury bridge where it is 10. Truck rates are higher.

Meanwhile, the department said that although the money is available it will be unable to call in the 1961 bonds before their maturity date. They have a noncallable provision. The department will have to continue paying the interest charges until they fall due in 1961. The bonds could be bought but the owners now want more than their original cost.

The department intends to remove the toll booths from the bridges as soon as possible. Reduced-rate tickets sold in advance to commuters will not be redeemed. The department said that 40 of about 135 toll collectors will be seeking new jobs after today. The remainder, many former employees of the bridge companies, are not seeking new work because of age and other factors. Many of the collectors work on a part-time basis.

The department will try to place the remaining 40 in other jobs

ABANDON PLAN FOR HUGE NEW MENTAL CLINIC

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate voted 29-14 last night to abandon plans for construction of a 14-19 million-dollar mental institution in Delaware County.

The measure, repealing authorization for the construction given in the 1955 Legislature, was sent to the House after almost an hour's debate.

Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) said he proposed the repeal on the basis of statements made by Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro.

"Trade For Cash"

Watkins told the Senate Shapiro had testified before a House Appropriations Committee hearing that he "would like to trade it (Delaware County Hospital) for cash."

The Delaware County lawyer said he was opposed to construction of the institution because, he said, Shapiro had admitted the hospital was not needed.

He said Shapiro now wanted to construct a mental health center under an act authorizing construction of a mental hospital.

$600,000 For Site

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, said the General State Authority recently purchased some 200 acres of land in Haverford Twp., Delaware County, for the hospital site. He said the purchase price was about $600,000.

Mahany said he felt the state could resell the land at a profit and receive enough additional money to make up for architectural fees already paid.

Sen. Charles R. Weiner (D-Phila.) questioned why Watkins had backed the construction plans in 1953 and now objected to them.

New Drugs Help

"Would you be willing to spend 23 millions of the taxpayers' money when Shapiro says it is not necessary?" Watkins asked.

"I want to make it clear now, however, that if a mental clinic is necessary I'm willing to sponsor legislation for it if it is proven necessary," Watkins said.

Watkins said the Embreeville

State Hospital now has only 89 per cent of its beds in use and added that less use will be made in that and other hospitals in the future according to Shapiro.

He quoted Shapiro as saying that with new drugs and treatments, 1,000 mental patients would be discharged from Pennsylvania hospitals in the next year.

Figures On Four Tracts

Mr. Bullett had held no special meeting of the board could be held on the question Tuesday evening because one member, Edward Will, was absent and would not have notice of the meeting.

Figures presented by Davis and others on the four tracts follow: Menges tract, between McSherrytown and Mt. Pleasant along Plum Creek and close to the Hanover sewage disposal plant, 18 acres, land to be donated, $500 for gas, if available; $19,027 for water plus $1,000 for fire hydrants; no sewer connections available, total $20,027.

Diller tract of 12 acres along Jefferson Ave. in Midway, $12,000 for land; estimates of $2,200 or $800 for gas; $836 for water, sewer not available, total $15,036.

YORK SPRINGS — York Springs Girl Scout Troop 19 spent the last two meetings planning a Court of Honor, Court of Awards for June 2, a Brownie picnic and summer camping. The Brownies are invited to go to the Scout cabin May 18 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for lunch and activities. The Intermediate troop has reserved July 29, 30 and 31 for camping at Camp Happy Valley. They will prepare by camping in patrols before that time.

The North Adams PTA meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the York Springs fire hall. Officers for the coming year will be installed. The Junior band under the direction of Dale Roth will entertain.

$8,800; $7,200 for gas; $3,840 for water; sewer not available, total $19,840.

Elmer Herr property of 14 acres, opposite Middleburg Manufacturing plant along Linden and Elm Aves., $22,500 for land; $2,800 for gas; $960 for water; possibility of entering McSherrytown sewer system at cost of $4,500; total, $26,260.

Many Factors Cited

A Buchart Engineering company representative said that sites where sewer lines are not available probably will require about $10,000 for a septic tank system. Mrs. Nellie Lightner, who holds a bus contract with the township now, was questioned about possible transportation costs to various sites. No conclusions were reached except that most pupils would have to be transported to the Menges site while nearly half of the township pupils would be within walking distance of the other sites. The township has 210 pupils now.

The suggestion was made the other sites would fit better into possible future links with the Hanover Joint School district than the Menges site and the Menges land's proximity to the disposal plant was pointed. Health dangers and the presence of an odor there were mentioned.

Early in the meeting Mr. Keefer reviewed steps toward acquiring a site taken by the board since last July. On May 2 building plans got state approval.

Petition Causes Stir

School boards have a "tough job," Mr. Keefer told the crowd of about 70 that filled every seat in the small building and lined the walls. He said the procedure followed by the township board in this case was that "usually followed by school boards."

The biggest stir was caused when a board member made reference to

Rain, Hail, Wind, Lightning Pound State Tuesday Evening

Pennsylvanians braced themselves for possible thunderstorms today and tonight in the wake of storms which caused thousands of dollars' damage.

The heaviest damage from storms yesterday and last night was reported in Fayette County north of Uniontown. Many areas were without electrical service for hours.

Rain, hail, wind and lightning buffeted several sections in the western section of the state including parts of the Pittsburgh metropolitan area.

Late afternoon rainfall in Philadelphia snarled traffic and caused thousands of persons, mostly shoppers, to scurry for shelter.

In Harrisburg lightning struck a transformer and caused an 11-minute power failure at Polyclinic Hospital. Emergency power was used and there was little confusion, the hospital reported.

Other power failures were reported at the Harrisburg State Airport. The Weather Bureau said 1.1 inches of rain fell in 30 minutes. One commercial flight scheduled to land at the airport returned to Philadelphia.

Scores of telephone poles and trees were uprooted in Fayette County. Uniontown itself had little damage. Throughout the county many communities were cut off temporarily as flash floods washed out rural roads.

At least three barns in Fayette County were blown over and the porch of one house near West Leisenring was ripped away. In Greene County lightning set fire to a barn on the farm of L. K. McMullen. The structure was destroyed.

The glass plant of the Anchor

Hocking Co. at Connellsville was flooded. More than 30 firemen helped pump water out of the structure.

A few utility lines were blown down in the Pittsburgh area. Several tents were either blown down or ripped away near the University of Pittsburgh where students planned to open a carnival tonight. The students rushed repairs and hoped to open on schedule although weather forecasts indicate further thunderstorm activity may be fairly general throughout the commonwealth today.

Two Allegheny Airlines planes made emergency landings last night at Philadelphia's International Airport because of bad weather conditions. One craft was en route from New York to Lancaster and the other from New York to Atlantic City.

Near New Kensington a front wall of a shopping center under construction was toppled. A section of 10 blocks about 104 feet long and ten feet wide was demolished.

Several electric transformers were knocked out of action in the Altoona area. Clerks of the Pennsylvania Railroad worked by lamplight in the freight callboy's office.

Emmitsburg

EMMITTSBURG—A surprise 24th anniversary party was given Sunday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hays, of Emmitt Gardens, by their friends and relatives.

Those present were: Prof. and Mrs. Arvin P. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kellholtz, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Goss, and family, Mr. and Mrs.

Robert Kellholtz, Miss Becky Hays, Mrs. Catherine Michaels, Miss Sara Taylor and Mr. Hornsby, all of Emmittsburg, and Mrs. Richard Jones and son, Baltimore. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays were married May 13, 1933, in the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church by Rev. John Hays.

They have three children, Thomas, Narrows, Va.; Robert, a student at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., and
